Crowd packs meeting

Angry taxpayers protest

FRANKFORT — A taxpayers' revolt erupted within the walls of the Frankfort High School auditorium Friday as an overflow crowd of approximately 400 irate Frankfort Township citizens voiced protest to recent real property tax assessments.

While Will County Assessor Ronald Senesac, present for the meeting, received the majority of the criticism for what was termed "unequitable assessments," the angry taxpayers also voiced protest to the taxing designs of government officials from Washington to Springfield.

Joliet attorney Albert Krusemark Sr., a resident of Frankfort and chairman of an ad hoc taxpayers committee, chaired the meeting which lasted for approximately three hours.

Krusemark made every effort to keep the meeting on an orderly level, despite occasional outbursts from participants. Citizens present at the meeting, however, appeared unwilling to accept Krusemark's suggestion that they simply register a protest with the Will County Board of Review and sign petitions to be sent to state officials. Instead, some citizens demanded, taxpayers should refuse to pay taxes based on the new assessments. They explained that some assessments were raised as high as 45, 50 and 60 per cent over previous years.

While addressing the group, Senesac was asked if it was correct that assessment on a frame house should begin to level off after four years. He explained that this was correct and was unable to say why one citizen's home was assessed at an increased rate after four years. Senesac's answer that "maybe it was underassessed" was greeted by loud protests and laughter from the audience.

Senesac explained, however, that his personal assessment on some of the property was considerably less than what had been printed in the Joliet newspapers. He was unable to explain why there was a difference of more than $4,000,000 between his calculations and those printed in newspapers.

Krusemark then introduced a spokesman for Rep. George O'Brien, who in turn addressed the group. He explained that O'Brien, a candidate for U.S. Congress from this district, was unable to attend because of previous commitments. When citizens protested because O'Brien was not himself present, Krusemark advised that the group should show more respect toward the speaker. "This fellow is representing perhaps your next congressman," Krusemark said. That comment, however, apparently struck the group as being highly partisan and Krusemark received loud jeers from the crowd.

Another element of protest was introduced to the meeting by a citizen who identified himself as Steve Novack. According to Novack, taxes for working citizens were being increased while welfare recipients were receiving more and more free money. "Take some of these freeloaders off the welfare rolls," Novack said to the cheers of the audience.

He was quick to clarify that he was not speaking of the elderly or the crippled who could not work. "I mean those beer drinkers," Novack said in what some citizens interpreted to be a reference to black welfare recipients.

Krusemark consistently urged the citizens to make use of the ballot box and to ignore the encouragement of a taxpayers refusal to pay taxes. One lady present, however, reminded Krusemark that the citizens of Illinois had made use of the ballot box in the recent Con-Con elections by voting against the personal property tax, but that that judgment had been ignored. Krusemark answered that the Supreme Court had overruled the decision of the voters. The response did not appear acceptable to the audience.

Krusemark also advised the citizens that they could take action like other citizens' groups were doing in Will County. They, he explained, were collecting $10 from each citizen and in turn were going to bring in "expert tax assessors from Cook County" to review the assessments. The mention of Cook County brought laughs from the audience and comments that "that's where the shoeboxes are," and "bring in Parky Cullerton" in reference to alleged scandals reported in the office of Cook County Assessor P.J. Cullerton.

Finally, however, Krusemark was able to encourage the citizens to sign petitions which he had prepared. The petitions were to be sent to the governor and state representatives, he said. At the mention of the governor, one citizen responded "the governor doesn't care; he's proven that." Krusemark answered that Gove. Richard Ogilvie does care, principally because this is an election year. "What about the other three years," someone asked. Krusemark did not answer.

The meeting closed with citizens flocking to tables to sign the petitions which Krusemark had prepared. The petitions called for the legislature to do four things:

1) "Disburse a larger share of State revenues from either the income tax or other State sources to local Grade Schools and High Schools and other taxing municipalities and adopt appropriate legislation creating a maximum rate of tax levy, taking into consideration the additional revenues so disbursed.

2) "Adopt constitutional legislation granting a homestead exemption to homeowners over the age of 65 years.

3) "Assess farm lands on an equitable basis considering its productivity and the actual use of the land, recognizing that true farm land does not create a burden to schools, and that present tax assessments are confiscatory.

4) "Adopt appropriate legislation so that the assessed valuation of all real estate in the entire State of Illinois be considered as one unit and that all schools and other taxing bodies then share equitably in said revenues produced from said real estate taxes."

Other than the signing of the petitions, no definite action was taken at the meeting.

The 100th anniversary of Arbor Day in Illinois was observed at Arbury Hills School last Thursday. Youngsters from kindergarten through fourth grade gathered at the north side of the building to help with the planting of a flowering crabapple tree purchased by the PTO. Water study needs - co-signer MOKENA — Water and drainage were major topics of discussion at the recent meeting of the Mokena village board.

Trustee Chester Ebert is to get a price on blading out a course for water to follow north, which is said to be the normal course for water to take. Such an opening would be along the back of the lots facing Wolf Road and would eliminate water standing west of Wolf Rd., from First Street north, it was said.

The natural flow for water there is across 195th street and on to Marley Creek. Albert Feeley and Mrs. Mary Halfacre, both of whom live on the north side of 195th Street have been having a discussion about drainage for a long time and at the meeting last week it was reported the question had been settled.

That was when Ebert reported having received complaints from residents about the flow of water northward but they don't want to come to a board meeting and voice their complaints in person. Gus Long, however, said he wants to get the water moving from behind his house and is willing to pay his share for a solution.

Mayor Tuttle reported that the Regional Public Water Commission is in need of some co-signers so it can get the money to make the engineering study for bringing in water to serve the entire region. It is estimated this study will cost 1-million.

The Commission feels it can underwrite the entire cost of the study, Tuttle reported, but right now they need some co-signers on a note. They cannot borrow money on the anticipation of the revenue bonds it plans to issue and are asking the seven communities in the district to endorse the project and promise to pay in the event the Commission could not. It was not set forth but it was believed the responsibility of each community that signed would be determined on a per capita basis.

Lyman Teague, village treasurer, suggested the water commission provide a written report to the villages supporting this project, of the monies received to date and how they have been expended. No action will be taken by the Mokena board until the Commission makes this report.

The ordinance annexing Sunny Acre streets along which the Hillcrest builders will run their sewer mains, will be up for adoption at the next meeting.

James Clarhage, Lockport, who has been serving as village planner for Mokena has resigned that post and the village board will hire a successor, expectedly in the near future.

Clarhage is said to be affiliated with Sid Bloom and Tom Phillips in the Owens Land Trust planned unit development but is not connected with them in the proposed development of the Doogan property, which is east of the Owens land, the mayor said. To avoid any possible conflict of interest, it was said, the village board accepted Clarhage's resignation.

Village Attorney George E. Sangmeister is to bring in an ordinance at the next board meeting under which a developer will pay the village for the work spent by its attorney, engineer and planner on a subdivision plan. Orland Park has had such an ordinance in effect for years. Under it the village pays the attorney and engineer from money it collects from the developer.

Village Engineer George Barber suggested that a copy of the Hillcrest Builders sewer plans be left at the village hall. He proposed that tap-on fees be established for the area and fees set for those who make use of the line for reimbursement of the developers. Barber is to give the village a figure.

Trustee Robert Teske reported that three condominium building permits have been issued to Hillcrest Builders. The school fees agreed to by the developers have been paid, $393.83 for the grade school district and $131.20 to Lincoln-Way High School. These fees were paid voluntarily by the developers.

These fees for the schools are: $64 to the high school for a three-bedroom single family dwelling and $148.50 for the grade school; two bedroom condominiums, $15.60 for the high school; $66 for the grade school; three-bedroom condominiums, $50 for high school, $130.90 for the grade school.

In District 161

Voters to decide referendum

ARBURY HILLS — Summit Hill School District 161, which now operates Arbury Hills and Ann Rutledge schools, is to have a referendum May 13. There are two proposals to be voted on—a $745,000 bond issue and a proposed increase in the educational fund tax rate of 25 cents.

The bond issue will be used to complete a school at Frankfort Square, a Hoffman-Rosener development at Harlem Av. and U.S. 30, which lies within the Summit Hill School District. The developers have given the district $125,000, which will be sufficient to build the first unit in the school, a large room that will accommodate 180 pupils. Later on there will be a similar sized room built at the other end, with a learning between them and additional rooms at the right and left sides of the building.

Partitions that will be used in the initial unit will have multi-uses. They will serve as dividers, of course, and also as chalkboards and book shelves.

Present enrollment of Arbury Hills School is 627, which is 102 more than was attending there at the close of the 1970-71 school year. Ann Rutledge has a school population of 181 as of now, 40 of the pupils coming from Frankfort Square.

The school planned for Frankfort Square will house pupils from kindergarten through fifth grade. Sixth graders there will go to Ann Rutledge and the seventh and eighth graders—as they do now—will attend classes at Arbury Hills.

While the bond issue will be for $745,000, the board of education pointed out that they will not all be issued now. In fact the assessed valuation — $8,024,067 — would not permit an issue of that size but the board would like approval so the bonds are there to sell when the valuation of the district is greater or some outstanding bonds have been paid off.

Last of the bonds approved in 1969 have been sold and will be utilized in improvements to lift Arbury Hills School out of the mud. Wet weather — and there seems to be a lot of it — a lot of mud is tracked into the school.

School administrators and board members are especially concerned about the educational tax increase proposal. This is the fund from which salaries are paid and educational supplies and materials are purchased. The present educational fund tax rate is $1.17 per $100 equalized assessed valuation. The voters will decide whether it is to remain at that figure or be raised to $1.42.

Supt. Aldo N. Fanti, in a letter to parents, pointed out that the proposed increase is necessary to—

---Permit sound fiscal policy to stay out of debt.

---Continue to provide competent teachers.

---Maintain reasonable class sizes.

---Continue improving the educational program for your children.

The amount of assessed valuation per pupil is the determining factor in a district's ability to support its schools. Supt. Fanti said. In Summit Hill's case the total assessed valuation of $8-million plus figures out to $10,313 per pupil, which puts the district in the lowest bracket state wide.

State aid and real estate taxes are the sources for school revenues, it was pointed out. If everyone in the Summit Hill district pays his taxes the district would get $98,000. The additional 25 cents sought for the educational tax fund would provide another $20,000 to work with. It is expected that state aid this year will be $300,000.

Lincoln-Way approves Devcon cash donation

NEW LENOX — A tentative agreement discussed the previous week by Supt. Joe Kruzich and Sanger Westphal, president of Devcon Corporation, the Lincoln-Way High School board last Thursday night accepted the developers plan for a cash contribution to the school district.

Devcon Corporation is planning development of an 80 acre site on Laraway Road, east of Gougar Road. A proposed pre-annexation agreement was submitted to the New Lenox village board several weeks ago. Under the plans outlined by Westphal, president of Devcon, to the New Lenox village board Devcon proposes to build a sewage treatment plant that would take care of 1,000 population as originally designed but ultimately serve 10,000. This plant would be deeded over to the village so would be available for use for those in that section.

Sangmeister's motion set up three stipulations:

Devcon's contribution to the school would be a voluntary cash donation in lieu of land.

The contribution will be made whether the proposed development is under the jurisdiction of New Lenox or Will County.

The cash payment is to be made per schedule attached to the resolution, and payment to be made on issuance of a building permit. According to a formula adopted for the high school cash payments from developers would range from $20 to $100 for a detached single family home; $2.60 to $79 for townhouses, quadriplex etc.; $2.60 to $36.60 for low density apartments and $40 to $18.40 for high density apartments.

Fernway climbing rungs of annexation ladder

by Gertrude Gallagher

ORLAND PARK. Another rung in the ladder was reached in the climb of the residents of Fernway to annex to the Village of Orland Park. Judge Harry Comerford heard oral arguments objecting to the annexation on April 26.

Presenting the objections on behalf of the Village of Westhaven and Ralph Aldrich was attorney Ronald Glink. The residents of Fernway are represented by attorney Leonard Carriere.

The judge took under advisement an oral motion by Carriere to strike four of the ten objections raised by Glink. Glink contended there was a prior petition before the court (the Village of Orland Park has also filed to annex Fernway); the filing was too close to the date of an election (March 21 primary); proper notice was not served the Orland Fire Protection District; and the language of the affidavits was not strictly statutory language.

Carriere argued Westhaven was not within its statutory rights to object on these four counts.

Signs coming down on State right-of-way

By Gertrude Gallagher

ORLAND PARK. The village board has been asked to cooperate with the Department of Transportation of the State of Illinois in the removal of commercial and business signs on the state right of way. On April 24 board members learned that over a dozen businesses were notified by the State that they must remove the signs, or have them removed by the state.

In another matter Zigmund Pluskota notified the board that his development at 139th Street and 82nd Avenue must remain dormant. He said conditions beyond his control make sewer and water plans undecided. Pluskota asked for the return of his check to the village.

In a letter from the Metropolitan Sanitary District referring to Tuckaway Unit 2 the builder was advised MSD would not reconsider its rejection of his application for a permit. However, Tuckaway could reapply, and with completion of the Treatment Plant facilities in late June permission to discharge will be considered.

A plan for annexation for the Nazarene Church, 147th Street and 94th Avenue, was referred to the Planning Commission.

An application for a business license for the E. and W. Thrift Shop, 14305 West Avenue, was approved subject to a letter of credit regarding parking. Applications for business licenses for Pizza Pete, 14342 LaGrange Road, and Evergreen Scavenger Service were placed in committee. Also placed in committee was an application for a sign for Safeguard Fence Company, 14620 LaGrange.

Twenty-five building permits were approved amounting to $708,000: Choyce - 9, Catalina - 9, Chapman - 1, Kearney - 2, Wirth - 1, Eberhart - 3.

The village accepted the bid of Terry's Lincoln-Mercury for the purchase of a new squad car at $4050.

In other actions: - 144th Street between Raney's Lane and Woodland will be closed on May 7 from 1-3 p.m. for the running of the Soap Box Derby by Scout Troop 368.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society will conduct a door-to-door campaign from June 6-June 11.

The Sanitation Committee will consider a letter from the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement inquiring whether the village has an anti-mosquito ordinance.

A ditch drainage problem at 14540 Ridge was referred to the street and alley committee.

Committees are considering the renewal of the agreement between H. & R. Refuse Disposal and the village for the year May 1, 1972-April 30, 1973.

A letter was to be sent to the Chief Administrative Officer of Cook County indicating the village wishes to participate in re-funding under the Emergency Employment Program.

Communities receive shares of income tax

TINLEY PARK/OAK FOREST. Governor Richard B. Ogilvie recently announced the distribution of $5,400,153.16 to Illinois counties and municipalities as their share of state income tax collections for March.

Tinley Park received $6,016.27 for March and Oak Forest received $8,682.83.

Municipalities received $4,558,725.39 and $841,427.77 went to counties, the governor said.

The income tax law requires distribution of these units of local government on one-twelfth the net proceeds of the income on a monthly basis.

The distribution is made on a per capita basis to municipalities while counties receive distribution on the basis of the county population in unincorporated territories. The Department of Local Government Affairs handles distribution of the funds.

Judge Comerford then went on to hear the arguments on the original ten objections, excepting three which concerned factual issues. He requested the attorneys to submit memos within 14 days on the seven objections, and to stipulate (mutually agree and accept as factual) to as many facts as possible in the three areas.

The three factual areas involve the status of Citizen's Utility Company which now supplies water and sewer to Fern-way; the percent of landowners' signatures and the size of the area; and the exact area and shape of the land.

Thomas Kerr, associate Village Attorney of Orland Park, said some of the objections appear to claim there must be a unity of purpose and services in an area. If Fernway were to annex to Orland Park the Village would not be furnishing water and sewer.

Kerr added the Orland Park Board of Trustees had authorized its attorneys to withdraw the Orland Park petition if they saw fit. They have not done so as yet, but Kerr said it could happen.

What could be a final hearing on the matter is scheduled for May 22 before Judge Comerford.

Supt. Kruzich clarifies position

NEW LENOX A statement of protest by Lincoln-Way Community High School Superintendent Joseph Kruzich highlighted a meeting Monday of the New Lenox plan commission.

Kruzich denied a statement made at a plan commission meeting two weeks ago that he had refused a contribution to the high school district from the Leavitt Residential Communities Inc., developers of Greenbriar subdivision planned for New Lenox.

Kruzich admitted that he had told a Nov. 15 plan commission meeting, at which representatives of Leavitt were present, that the increase in taxation resulting in the new subdivision would adequately cover new operational costs of developing from an additional development. However, he said, he had not refused the contribution. Kruzich stated that instead he had privately conversed with the representatives of Leavitt following the meeting regarding subsidy to cover costs of additional buildings, also necessitated by an increased enrollment.

Kruzich told the meeting that he had been insured by the Leavitt spokesman on Nov. 15 that action would be taken to provide some assistance for the high school district. He said he was surprised when on Dec. 15, the New Lenox village board entered into an agreement with the Leavitt firm without the high school sub-sidi included.

The agreement, as signed on Dec. 15, includes a contribution by Leavitt to New Lenox School District 122, but now subsidy for the Lincoln-Way district.

Kruzich said that the subsidy to District 122 had been arrived at during the two-hour meeting with officials of that district earlier in the afternoon of Nov. 15, prior to the plan commission meeting. No such prior meeting had been held with the high school district, he said. It was for this reason, he explained, that he was unprepared at the meeting of Nov. 15, to make an absolute request of Leavitt.

Leavitt spokesman Kenneth Campbell protested Kruzich's statement and insisted that offers had been made the Lincoln-Way district but that it had refused such. As a result, he said, no further subsidy was available. He added that any future agreement with Lincoln-Way would mean a decrease in the amount of subsidy to be given District 122, insisting that his firm is in a position to contribute no more of a total amount than is presently being offered.

The discussion ended with Kruzich explaining to the plan commission and to citizens present at the meeting that his district has previously entered into subsidy agreements with subdividers in many other communities served by Lincoln-Way citing such in Manhattan, Mokena and elsewhere. He insisted that he was in no way opposed to such assistance and to the contrary welcomed it.

"Your cooperation does not have much to offer this community," Kruzich told Campbell. He added that the Leavitt firm had not shown good faith toward the high school district.

The plan commission again delayed action on zoning of the Greenbriar subdivision. At the April 17 meeting of the commission, action had been delayed awaiting recommendations from the New Lenox Fire Protection District. While general recommendations from the fire protection district were offered at Monday's meeting, the commission chose to hold approval until definitive recommendations are made at a May 9 meeting of the fire commissioners.

The plan commission also listened as Joe Davies, a spokesman for New Lenox citizens, made a four page presentation in opposition to the subdivision. In his statement, Davies presented material indicating that the Leavitt community would be in violation of New Lenox R-3 zoning regulations if constructed as planned. Village architect Richard Snyder verified the validity of Davies' statement.

Commission Chairman Louis Loebe complimented Davies on his research and indicated that the commission would take into consideration the opinions and evidences offered by the citizens' group.

In other action, the commission heard a request from developer Martin Flanagan for rezoning of property for the construction of a retirement and sheltered care center in New Lenox.

Flanagan explained that the center would be constructed on property owned and developed by him north of U.S. 30 and west of Cooper Rd. In response to questions, he explained that the center would house retired individuals and those "too sick for home but not sick enough to remain in a hospital."

Loebe explained that the commission would further consider the matter in closed session.

Orland learns 104th Ave. unit

ORLAND PARK Preliminary plans were shown to the Orland Park Village board on May 1 for a planned unit development to be erected on the northeast corner of 131st St. and 104th Ave.

The owner of the 80 acres of property is the Peace Memorial Church, formerly located at 78th and Laflin St. in Chicago. Presently outside the village, the owner would like to annex to Orland Park.

Zay Smith, land planner for the development, told the board the tract would be developed as a planned community with the church edifice as the dominant feature facing 131st St. Along 131st St. and along 104th Ave. is planned a convenient shopping center, a gas station, professional buildings and an extended care nursing facility.

North of the "church or downtown" area are single family homes, townhouses, low rises, relatively low rental apartments, medium rises and at the north end at about 127th St. a high rise of five or six stories. A retention pond doing double service as a lake and a senior citizens residence are also in the proposed plan.

Smith emphasized plans are still flexible. He said the PUD allows a large green park-like area and protects the area from too great a density. According to the planner, the overall average density for the 80 acres is 8.7 units per acre.

Consultant attorney for the church Louis Goebel said the group will start as soon as it knows it can annex. Hopefully ground will be broken in the fall for the church building.

Although it may annex to Orland Park,

Tinley holds two payments to contractors

TINLEY PARK The village withheld approval of two escrow releases at the Monday night board meeting.

The first release would have been to Alpha Construction Co., for $23,871.60 for installation of water mains on Hickory Street from 69th Avenue to Ridgeland Avenue. Trustee Merle Landau said that the company had been told about the bad condition of the road many times, and had done nothing to correct the situation.

The second escrow payment held by the board was to R.J. Curtis architect for $958.90 for alterations on the municipal building. Trustee Robert Mason made the motion to withhold in view of the architects' failure to submit requested progress reports on the present building. Mason further suggested that when escrow withholdings are made that the party concerned be informed of the board reasoning.

The board agreed to sign a plat of subdivision for Oak Creek predicated on the builders' letter of intent to make 171st street a full street with the village being responsible for the easements.

The land in question is a 40-acre site for homes and condominiums. The contractor has donated four acres of land adjacent to Memorial School for either park or school use.

The board passed on a motion by Mason that the village attorney draft a resolution supporting house bills, 558 and 559 presently being considered in Springfield. The bills concern village acquisition of land, and financial aid for school districts.

Trustee Richard Durkin reported that the city of Oak Lawn had submitted a contract regarding the sale of Lake Michigan water to Tinley Park and Oak Forest. The two villages will be meeting Tuesday May 2, 8 p.m. to discuss the proposal. Durkin added that he hoped to make a final recommendation to the board Monday, May 8.

In further business the board accepted a low bid from Finigan Ford for a 1972 Ford Torino squad car in the amount of $3,285.58. High bid from Bettenhausen Motors for a 1972 Dodge Coronet was $3,670.20.

Excepted the following appointments for one year terms: village treasurer, Harvey Kline; village attorney, Ed Richardson; public works, Charles Powers; Chief of police, Kenneth O'Brien; industrial and commercial commission, Ed Gregory; health inspector, Donald Westerhausen; civil defense, Mike Haber; building commissioner, Chester Marshall; and building inspector, Frank Schneider.

The PUD would be in School District 118. The church and some of the service corporations set up would be non-profit and non-taxable. Other property would be taxable.

The 84-year old church is a member of the Northern Illinois Conference of the United Church of Christ. It has recently been holding services in Chicago Christian High School in Palos Heights. Among its non-profit service ventures is the Peace Memorial Convalescent Home in Evergreen Park, a skilled care facility and a senior citizens corporation housing unit in the same suburb.

According to Pastor LaVerne Joseph, occupancy of the housing will not be limited to members of the congregation. However, he indicated, Orland Park could expect about 800 of the 1400 member congregation. Senior citizen church members were given preference in the senior citizen housing units.

Sewer lines are planned to run west from the interceptor from Southwest Hwy. to the development along 131st St.

Village President Melvin Doogan said he would like to see the PUD annexed to Orland but the plan would be referred to the planning commission.

Doogan instructed Village Attorney Raymond Pieper to investigate the path of annexation. Doogan added the village would probably use a path of land north from 139th St. to 131st St. along 104th Ave.

Final approval for the plans must also be obtained from the church congregation on a whole before the church will proceed.

What grade would you give?

Here are 31 virtues for a progressive town. If a community can answer yes to 24 of these, citizens can take pride in their town. If there are more no's than yes's, somebody should start working.

1. Most high school and college graduates stay in town.
2. The local paper constantly pushes civic improvements.
3. There's a place to swim within easy reach.
4. Young couples have little trouble finding a place to live.
5. The head of your city government is a "get-things-done" man.
6. Teachers' salaries are better than the state average.
7. There's a library with a good collection of new books.
8. Service clubs and women's organizations team up on projects.

9. A modern hospital is within your trading area.
10. There's a hotel or motel you would enjoy if you were a visitor.
11. It's easy to find a parking space in the business section.
12. Prompt, reasonably priced ambulance service is available.
13. Streets throughout the community are well-lighted.
14. There's as much interest in local as national elections.
15. There's an active parent-teacher's association.
16. Citizens have a positive outlook and attitude about their town.
17. Firemen must take regular training courses.
18. There's an annual clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week.
19. More than half the church congregations are under 40 years of age.
20. Local speeders pay the same finer as out-of-towners.

21. Newcomers quickly feel they're a part of the town.
22. Schools have plenty of room for students.
23. All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good condition.
24. At least one restaurant serves outstanding meals.
25. It's easy to get volunteers for any worth-while project.
26. There's a livewire Chamber of Commerce.
27. There's at least one doctor for each 800 people in your county.
28. Well-stocked stores keep shoppers in the town.
29. There's an ample supply of good drinking water.
30. The sewer extension programs keep pace with new housing.
31. Good zoning keeps commercial firms away from residential areas.

Editor:

In the April 12 issue of the Times Herald Alex Putz accused me of having a "personal axe to grind" in reference to my comments on conditions in School District 146. To the extent that I have three children attending District 146 schools it is personal - I agree.

All parents have a personal interest in their children's education and we would be derelict in our responsibilities if it were otherwise.

Is it amiss to set high standards for the system that is charged with educating our children? Is it unreasonable to expect that the children will receive a full day's education, each and every day of the school year, equipped with all of the resources and materials necessary to make each day as productive as possible?

At what time is a statement of the problems and issues more relevant than during an election? Concerned parents have brought to the attention of the present Board many of the topics which I outlined, so it should have been no great shock to see them in print. Why did the board see fit to deviate from the intent of the public meeting by framing a Board Policy statement that requires the submission of questions, in writing, in advance of the meeting?

My statistics were not manufactured out of thin air. The achievement test data that I had reference to were the results of the freshman placement test scores at Sandburg High School for the current year.

District 146 had an average composite score of 8.3 - just a bit better than eighth grade level. Individual test area scores were: Reading - 8.7, Language Arts - 8.4, Math - 7.9, and Science 8.8. Three or four other districts taking the same test had scores in the 9.5 to 10.0 range; almost two grade levels higher than District 146 students. Hence our ranking in the lower half of the test group.

Achievement test data within District 146 is restricted, as a matter of board policy, and thus are not available to parents except in vague and generalized terms. Actual scores and class profiles which would provide the parent with a quantitative measure of individual progress cannot be revealed it seems.

I'd like to know how my children are doing, compared to their classmates - and not to a nationalized norm. Neighboring districts do supply this data on a regular basis for all of their students as a summation of the year's activity. Why is District 146 reluctant to disclose this type of information?

The "comprehensive building program" would be in dire straits at this point in time without the gift of land for the Silver Lakes School site. The Fierke site took years to acquire and that building is almost at the designed capacity now! Even allowing for weather conditions and the other vagaries of construction the district's track record on building completions is not good. The mobile classrooms at the Sandburg School were unfinished at the beginning of the school year and these were prefabricated; and installed in the best of weather conditions!

Mr. Putz' memory is conveniently short if he fails to recall the 1970-71 school year when Fulton and Sandburg schools ran double shifts to accommodate students who should have been in the, then uncompleted, Memorial and Central additions.

This situation lasted from the beginning of the school year until Easter when the last of the students were moved to new facilities.

The decision to make the Fierke School an open-classroom environment was totally the board's. The parents involved were not allowed to participate in this decision, nor even given the courtesy of notice.

We were presented with a fait accompli in late August when plans were already too far along to reverse.

In the literature I've read on establishing an open school environment, the choice of conventional versus open school for the individual child has been left to the parent. Here in District 146 we are confronted with education by fiat, with the Board dictating the type of classroom environment.

According to the board's claims, I and all the other parents who have children in the Fierke School should feel very fortunate; for our children are receiving a better education than the rest of the district. Our children will benefit from an enriched curriculum that is not available at Fulton, Sandridge or Memorial.

The temporary facilities made necessary by the lack of building were "accepted by the board" and would have been accepted by the parents - if the board had been open enough to let the public in on the problems that they expected to encounter in such a situation. Communicate gentlemen!

The inference that "the faculty is below par" is a specious bit of reasoning that Mr. Putz has concocted to belaud the issue. The teachers have done a great job under trying conditions and with minimal back-up from the administration.

Theory and practical experience are poles apart and one university extension course cannot possibly give any teacher total insight into a new teaching method. It would have been better to proceed gradually and gain some needed experience before embarking on a full-scale conversion. That benefit has been there for the present sixth grade class when they will return to conventional teaching methods next fall?

The Daily News story could hardly have been anything less than glowing with only a superficial look at the district. The air-conditioned band room is impressive, as is the "free" planetarium. A glimpse of the video-tape unit would have boggled the mind! If Mr. Sellers had had the time to explore in-depth all aspects of the District's operations; perhaps the story would have been less rosy.

Was Mr. Sellers given any concrete information on achievement levels? Did he see copies of curricula for the various grades? His story was written from the standpoint of expenditure per pupil and consequently did not concern itself with aspects which would have been more definitive.

As residents of this community we are all involved, either as taxpayers or parents, in the problems of our school system; and beyond our differences of opinion have as a common goal the upgrading of our educational facilities.

However, as long as the board summarily dismisses criticism and labels the critics as liars and/or trouble-makers then our efforts will continue to be divided and the end result diminished.

eva Convention standards many Viet Cong would not qualify for POW status because they wear no uniforms, do not carry arms openly, and commonly violate the Convention definition of the "laws and customs of war."

However, both the U.S. and South Vietnam have adopted broad and generous definitions for qualifying POW's.

Captured N. Viets and Viet Cong troops are classified as POW's even when they do not fully meet the Convention's description. This is in marked contrast to Hanoi's refusal to give POW status to captured American personnel who are in uniform and are clearly entitled to the protection of POW status.

N. Viet and Viet Cong prisoners in South Vietnam are provided with adequate shelter, clothing, food, medical care, and exercise. The POW camps in the South are regularly inspected by representatives of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

We and the South Viets identify the POW's we hold and provide their names to the International Committee of the Red Cross, whereas Hanoi refuses to do the same.

We encourage the POW's to correspond with their families regularly, whereas Hanoi prevents American POW's to freely correspond and receive packages from home.

We have repeatedly offered to repatriate all sick and wounded POW's, but Hanoi refuses to even discuss it. North Vietnam has released only 9 Americans and the Viet Cong 23 Americans held by them, but only after exploiting the POW issue with peace groups in the United States. The United States Command and South Vietnam have released unilaterally 1,507 who chose to remain in South Vietnam, with only 233 N. Viets choosing to return to the North.

We have proposed the immediate and unconditional release of all POW's (an exchange of 38,000 Communist troops, of which approximately 8,500 are North Viets, for the much smaller number of American, South Viet, and Allied men held in captivity by Hanoi).

The Communists have tied the humanitarian question of the POW's to their political and military objectives in Indochina, in particular the unilateral withdrawal from Vietnam of all U.S. forces.

The "7-point" formula advanced by Hanoi last July restates this position, while the United States continues to press for humane treatment and early release of POW's on both sides without waiting for agreement on the political and military issues.

Soil Stewardship Week

Man has an obligation

By Virginia Sass

WILL-SOUTH COOK — Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water and other resources, will be observed, May 7-14, according to William H. Stelter, chairman of the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District.

"Creative Conservation", the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm. The Will-South Cook Conservation District and some 3000 companion districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Associations are sponsoring the event for the 18th consecutive years.

Among the local events scheduled for Soil Stewardship Week will be a WMAQ television program. Three generations of the Barr family, Wilton Township, will appear on the Jerry Mitchell Show over Channel 5 on Thursday, May 11, on two shows — the first following the Johnny Carson Show at 1 or 1:30 a.m. and the other at 6:30 a.m. Keven, age 14, his father, Burton, and his grandfather, Howard Barr, will speak on the windbreak they planted this spring.

As associate director, George Anderson, Homer Township, will give a sermon on stewardship at the Plymouth Congregational Church, Plainfield at 11 a.m. May 7.

The district is distributing upon request to churches of all faiths, free of charge, attractive bulletin inserts and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

In each city or rural area, financial assistance for the materials is provided by local banks. Banks participating are: First National of Manhattan, Bremen State Bank and Trust Company, New Lenox State Bank, Peotone State Bank, First National Bank of Wilmington, First National Bank of Joliet, Frankfort State Bank, Farmer's State Bank of Beecher, American Savings Bank of South Chicago Heights, Lemont National Bank and the Orland State Bank.

The bulletin insert cover was designed by A. J. Brader, a district cooperator from Green Garden Township. The drawing follows the theme "Consider Conservation", showing a planting scene with an inscription, "As You Sow", on a monument in the shape of a cross. This reminder stresses the importance of good stewardship today to benefit tomorrow. There are 26,000 inserts to be given to 125 churches in Will and South Cook Counties.

Will buys Thorn woods

WILL COUNTY — One of the last official acts of the Will County Forest preserve board under its original organization was the purchase of 90 acres of Thorn Creek Woods in Monee Township.

The price was $5,000 an acre and the purchase is contingent on the district receiving 70 percent of the price from the federal government through the Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

It is expected that other agencies in the area, including the village of Park Forest South, will proceed to purchase as much of the 1,400 acre tract as possible.

John E. Francis, supervisor from New Lenox and chairman of the real estate committee, presented a resolution recommending the purchase. The agreement has been three years in the making and Francis and Herman Olive, president of the forest preserve board said they had experienced many "frustrating moments" in connection with the land acquisition plan.

Supervisor Francis said he believes the county is getting the best parts of the property. It is getting land on both sides of Monee Road and north of Exchange Avenue from the New Community Enterprises, a partnership with Manilow Organization Inc. the developers of Park Forest South. Money for the county's share of the purchase is coming from a $1.5-million bond issue passed several years ago and of which little has been spent. Under the agreement $10,000 is to be paid as earnest money. There is no brokerage fee.

Francis listed several other parcels that he believed the new real estate committee should keep in mind. He told LeRoy VanDyne, an assistant supervisor from Joliet who has been promoting a dam east of Joliet for flood control of Hickory and Spring Creeks that HUD has given the green light for the forest district to begin acquiring the necessary property for the damsite. One of the parcels listed by Francis as having been under consideration is the Valley View property on U.S. 30 immediately west of Van Horn Woods. The prospects for that property to become a part of the park district of Mokena, Frankfort, and New Lenox appear quite remote, if ever. Members of the real estate committee were commended by the forest preserve board for their work.

not only to students, but also to taxpayers and teachers.

We are the proud possessors of a school district in which there is an administrator for every nine teachers. That ratio does not seem to be adequate, however, since proposed staff cuts only involve teachers. At Tinley Park, as an example, the projected September enrollment will be down about 150 students. The administrative staff is to remain the same, but eleven teachers are to be cut. At Hillcrest, where enrollment is going up, it seems there will be no corresponding increase in teaching staff.

I see a strong movement afoot to dissolve the hot lunch programs at Bremen and Tinley Park in order that vending machines might be installed. When so many of our students need one, good meal each day, and the food machines at Hillcrest and Oak Forest are so widely condemned, I wonder why machines must be inflicted upon our other two schools. The cafeteria "break-even" point could be achieved by a small increase in prices, or the board itself could absorb a small loss into its proposed budget of almost nine million dollars. To deny the students proper food, hardly seems to be an adequate solution.

This year I encountered a wood shop teacher who was attempting to teach without wood. Perhaps wood is too costly. There are other priority items. One principal has been in Atlanta, Georgia, looking at schools. The programs he is examining could be found in Illinois school districts, one of which is a drive of only a few minutes from our district. We also had ample funds to send three principals and an assistant superintendent to California last month. Two board members, as well, went to California. (Mrs. Kroner and Mrs. Pugh-liese, neither of whom has ever been there and would have greatly enjoyed the trip, refused to go because benefits to our district's children seemed questionable.) It harkens back to a year ago when several of our board members went to California at election time. The incumbents were defeated at the polls while they were still enjoying the sun.

Money is available for a superintendent's salary which is thousands of dollars greater than the salary of Michael Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction. Money is not available for teaching staff, or even a decent baseball diamond at Hillcrest or a usable track at Bremen.

Prior to the recent school board election, rumors were spread regarding a conspiracy between some teachers and candidates. It seems that we were planning to either bankrupt the district or increase taxes. Just how we were to accomplish either of these things seems a bit vague. The defeat of three superior candidates was assured by the panic rumors, and we now have new board members whose past performances in public service are either lackluster or non-existent. Numerous irregularities in the election are currently under investigation and may result in litigation and some rather bad publicity for the district.

I believe that I am speaking for the teachers of our high schools when I say that we will continue to work for your children with professional devotion. Who, other than devoted teachers, would remain?

As I type this for submission to the editor, I am informed that Mr. Harley, the new chief negotiator for the board, has failed to appear for his first negotiations meeting with the teachers, leaving them to sit outside of a darkened Administrative Center. Good luck, District No. 228.

WALTER S. SKINNER

Editor:

Here in High School District No. 228, we are already beginning to see the fruits of the recent school board election. Certain factions within the administration and the newly elected school board are causing the educational process to grind to a halt.

As a teacher in our district, and as the president of the Joint Faculty Association which represents the teachers of our four schools, I am accustomed to being maligned by the press, certain board members, politicians and administrators. Attacks upon me by name don't even bother me any more. What does bother me, however, is their disregard for the students in our schools.

I believe that I could write a book about the injustices I have witnessed in this district during the past few years. Injustices completely ignore it, as if it doesn't exist or isn't worth mentioning. They blame everything but that. If it doesn't mean anything, then why doesn't government print enough money to give everyone a million dollars and overnight we will have economic Utopia.

I believe the one thing American people better realize is there is nothing for nothing. We pay for everything. That price will be servitude.

Young people today are concerned about environmental conditions and pollution. I wish to commend the schools for their initiative in the re-cycling program. I would especially like to praise one family of boys that go out every Tuesday morning, riding down one street and another picking up newspapers for the school.

It takes great effort getting up that early and going out before schools begin in rain, shine or cold. Some of you kids that call these boys garbage pickers have no room to talk. Have you collected one bottle, one newspaper or offered any time at all. All you people that care enough to be involved - congratulations.

An open letter to Mrs. William E. Comstock, President Hazelcrest League of Women Voters.

As a candidate for re-election to District 228 School Board, I felt it was a rare privilege and opportunity to attend the four candidates' nights you held at the local high schools. It provided one of the few chances for the voters of the districts to meet the candidates, listen to them and make choices as to the candidates that reflected their concerns. I hope this is the start of something that will continue each year in the district prior to election. It is surely needed!

News Brief

TINLEY PARK — The building at 6825 W. 170th St., (formerly Norge Village) is in the process of being remodeled for a Masonic Lodge.

The Tracy-Banner Blue Masonic Lodge No. 810, A.F. and A.M. recently purchased the building.

When the remodeling is completed, it is hoped that the hall will be used not only by the Masons but, also by Eastern Star, DeMolay, Rainbow Girls and Job's Daughters.

Masonic Lodges are fraternal non-denominational organizations whose purpose is to help the brotherhood of man. This will be the first Masonic in Tinley Park.

The Tracy Lodge can be traced back to June, 1891; the Banner Blue Lodge, from the Engelwood-Auburn Park area, was founded in 1909.

With the joining of Tracy and Banner Blue Lodge, the local chapter became one of the most powerful in Illinois with several hundred members.

For many families, gone are the days when father worked to support the family and mother's place was at-home to care for the children. For various reasons, mother, like father is out working and proper care for the children must be found.

Nazarene Nursery School, 7265 W. 171st St., Tinley Park, is the place many working and non-working mothers have chosen to have care for their children.

The school has classes for children two and a half through five years old and is open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The aims of the school are to help children develop physically, socially, emotionally and mentally to reach their individual capacities.

Upon arrival at school until 9 a.m. is free play time. During this period each child is given an opportunity to develop large muscle coordination on play equipment both in and out of doors. Each child chooses his own activity and experiments freely.

The classroom period, under the direction of state licensed teachers, begins at 9 a.m. with roll call and a morning greeting. The pledge of allegiance is recited and the children join together to sing "America."

Singing and music time follows and each child is given an opportunity to enjoy music as well as participate in singing.

After such a work out for the "mini-students" a snack of juice and crackers is welcomed.

During worktime, the children participate in individual and group projects, as painting, coloring, cutting, and working with clay.

While working together the children are learning to share materials and develop small muscle control.

To develop an appreciation of good literature and the Bible, a story time is held before lunch.

The hot lunches served include one-third of the necessary food requirements and during this time each child develops good table manners.

Next is rest and nap time. Records made for children are played softly during this period.

After rest time, cold milk and something sweet is served to help even the best of the little ones to be in a good mood before parents start to arrive at the end of the day.

Each Friday is "show and tell time" and children bring a toy from home which they may demonstrate in front of the class. This method helps the child give thought orally and at the same time builds a larger vocabulary and develops an ability to present ideas.

At Nazarene a motor facilitation program is used to help the students develop perceptual motor abilities. Improvements in motor ability aid the child to function better socially and at the same time contribute directly to certain components of classroom learning.

Some of the exercises used in the program are walking forward, backward and sideways, on a balance beam, jumping, hopping, skipping on each foot. Other methods are throwing, rolling and catching a ball, crawling, and identifying the concepts of up and down.

The Nazarene Nursery School, which is a non-denomination, non-profit organization, is run by a board of directors, and presently cares for 53 children. Visitors are welcome.

The half-day session which runs from 9 to 11:30 a.m. costs $12 per week and an additional 75 cents per day is charged for those who stay until 12:30 p.m. for lunch. For children who stay all day the cost is $22 per week.

A general physical examination is required for each child before entering school.

ARBURY HILLS The Arbury Hills Civic Association has scheduled its annual Frash Pick-Up Day for its members this Saturday, May 6. On that one day all Civic Association members only may put out any trash, large or small, with the one exception of cars.

The trash to be picked up must be at the curb by 6 a.m. in order to be assured of pick-up.

Membership dues must be paid by May 6 in order to avail yourself of this service. There will be Civic Association men with the trucks to verify membership and to assist in the loading of the trash.

If you wish to pay membership dues, please contact Ron Leto, president of the Civic Association.

The First Nighters will have the May meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Gloria DeVries on Crabapple Lane Thursday, May 4, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Arbury Hills Baseball League is holding a ladies night on Friday, May 5, at the Arbury Hills School. This is for women only, and will be a card and bunco party. The cost is $1 per person and will include an evening of fun and refreshments.

Saturday, May 6, the Baseball League is sponsoring its annual Gas Day at the Ron Leto Clark Service Station on Route 45 and Acacia Street (just north of the Birch Street entrance). On this day, the Baseball League will be given the net profit on all gas pumped that day. Come on over with empty gas tanks and fill them up. What an easy way to help out a useful organization.

The Arbury Hills Lions Club members will be selling house brooms, whisk brooms and garbage can liners Sunday afternoon, May 7. They will be going door-to-door.

Proceeds will go to the usual Lions Club objectives, such as community improvements and the care and prevention of blindness. Residents of our community are asked to be receptive to the Lions when they call on them that day.

Chairman for this event this year is Joe Arcuri.

The Arbury Hills Baseball League will have its May meeting at the school Tuesday, May 9, beginning at 8 p.m. If your child has not been told what team he will be on, come to the meeting and check it out with the managers. If your child has already been notified, come on anyway and see the workings of the organization instead of griping about it.

Prestwick

Michael J. Flynn
815-469-5617

Words! Words! and still more words. That's what over 300 Frankfort Township Taxpayers had dished up to them last Friday during a meeting hurriedly called to protest the high real estate tax assessments in our area. Many residents of Prestwick were present during the two hour session of meaningless conversation.

With the exception of our Township Assessor, not a single elected or would be elected official was in attendance. Where are these lower real estate tax bills we were supposed to receive when the state sales tax and then the state income taxes were instituted? All we can see is higher bills, fewer services and banks making big money on interest rates on tax anticipation warrants. Nearly $2 million worth of these warrants were authorized as one of the last official acts of the outgoing Will County Board of Supervisors last Friday.

It's time that the buck passing stops. We are being told that we have been getting away with murder for years with our low assessments and that we really deserve the higher assessments now being made. Is this our fault? Yes it is. Not because we control the assessment procedure but, because we fail to pay close attention to candidates for public office and for the school boards. Our elected officials determined the low assessments and the error is theirs not ours. We are being told that the school tax rate is really what is hurting us. Blame our school boards is now in vogue. Don't blame them, blame our elected county and state officials. When new subdivisions are authorized, the school boards don't approve or disapprove of them, the county officials do. To many students over tax present facilities and huge sums of immediate cash are needed to hurriedly build the facilities required by laws made by state officials.

What is Prestwick getting for these higher taxes? We pay for our own water, sewers and garbage collection. We are even considering paying for private police protection. About all we really get is good road service. That's not enough. The Will County Board Elections were recently held and the winners will be formally seated on May 1. Where were they last Friday? When they needed our votes, they knew where we were. When we want to be heard and need their help, they can't be found.

Glenn Coburn is our representative on the County Board. A call to him indicated that the tax meeting was called so hurriedly that he could not change plans made some time ago to attend another meeting scheduled for that same time. He did arrive at our meeting near its conclusion.

Elections coming up in the fall are most important ones. It is time that our elected officials know and clearly understand our demands BEFORE they are elected to office and we in turn must see to it that we elect the man or men who will keep our best interests in the forefront of their term in office. We must turn out in numbers for the fall elections, we must seek out the candidates and we must give them a forum so that we can hear them and, most important of all, they can hear us. School board elections were held in Will County recently. These boards determine where .85c out of every tax dollar we spend goes. Attend your school board meetings and make yourselves heard NOW. They are working on their tax rates now and will be a powerful influence on your forthcoming tax bill. We can no longer afford the fiscally irresponsible methods that have been used by our government. Take time out from your busy schedules to attend public meetings and be heard or be prepared to spend thousands of dollars for the luxury of remaining uninvolved and quiet.

The Women's 18 Holes kick off the 1972 golf season on May 2. The first "crack" of a club meeting a ball early Tuesday will mean that another season of trying to "break a 100" has begun. The ball will either go into orbit or down the grass, only time knows for sure.

Ilse and Fritz Vogelmann of Aberdeen Road held a belated birthday party for Ilse's visiting Father, Adolph Meng, on April 28. Many of her guests were from Prestwick.

The "Italian Night" dinner parties held on April 27 and 28 were great successes. Over 200 persons enjoyed the fine Italian cooking and congenial company of friends. Splitting the event into two days was a good idea.

A taste of school life

NEW LENOX This Saturday, May 6, is Step-Up Day for all students who will enter Lincoln-Way High School next September as freshmen. The program will begin at 8:30 a.m. and conclude at 11:30. Lincoln-Way buses will follow their regular routes and time schedules to pick-up students. Eighth grade pupils should check with a Lincoln-Way student who lives near them for the time and place of pick-up, school authorities said.

The program for the day will include information concerning school activities, health, and dental examinations, bus transportation and food service. The Student Council will present a slide program, conduct a tour of the building and meet in small groups with the incoming freshmen for discussions.

School authorities urge all members of the Class of 1976 to attend Step-up Day to become better acquainted with Lincoln-Way High School.

Injured in cycle mishap

MOKENA Dennis Burkhardt, 19-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burkhardt, Kluth Drive, is in Silver Cross Hospital with a double fracture of a leg as result of a motorcycle accident April 26.

Burkhardt was riding east on Francis Road about 9:15 p.m. when his wheels struck some loose gravel and went out of control. This was shortly after passing over the bridge just east of the Norfolk & Western crossing. Burkhardt almost succeeded in riding it out when he hit more loose gravel, it was reported.

and this time he went down in the ditch, just east of Marley Road. He struck two or three low culverts and the last encounter threw him into the air. His companions said he made several aerial somersaults before landing in the ditch. They said he was fortunate to have been thrown at the time he was at the next culvert, just ahead, was built high and of concrete. As it turned out the youth was uninjured except for the fracture of his leg, according to members of the family.

May 15 is clean -up day

NEW LENOX A week from this Saturday, May 13 will be the date will be Clean-up Day in New Lenox. That is the day when residents can get rid of the rubbish and junk that may have been collecting over the year.

All one has to do is carry it out to where one places his garbage can. The C & A disposal firm, which has the contract for picking up garbage at New Lenox, will provide the trucks and crews for Clean-up Day.

The firm has laid down certain rules, however, for residents to follow. They will not pick up building material or parts of buildings; car frames or large parts of motors; blocks or rocks, or anything of unreasonable size, shape or weight. Anything of reasonable size which can be handled by two ordinary men will be taken.

"If anything is left," said a C & A spokesman, "it will be because either the trucks or the men are unable to handle it."

Branches and tree limbs must be cut to not more than five feet and small trimmings must be bagged.

L-W education rates high

NEW LENOX Lincoln-Way High School has again earned accreditation from the North Central Association, board president, Dr. Robert L. Keener reported to the board at its regular meeting last Thursday night. Accreditation means that the school has a faculty and administration that is qualified and the course of study is true educational quality.

Supt. Kruzich said the North Central Association has always accredited Lincoln-Way High and its requirements are higher than those of the state.

State accreditation, Kruzich added, is very important to the district because without it there would be no state financial aid. Lincoln-Way has renewed its membership in the Illinois High School Association. Membership fee is $25.

The board also approved an agreement with Boyd Gillian, Marley Road for use of two-thirds of his greenhouse by the school's agriculture department.

One-half the cost of heating the greenhouse, $450 will be paid out of the profits of the experimental farm, it was said. Ronald Olson, of the agriculture department, will have charge of the program. Students will be transported to the greenhouse by bus. There is no rental fee to be paid for use of the building.

It's a weighty problem

MOKENA — A complaint about heavy traffic on McGovney Street was read to the Mokena village board at its recent meeting. It is not that there have been so many vehicles on that street but rather the weight of those that have employed it.

The letter, coming from residents of McGovney Street, blames the recent rupture of water lines on the street to the weight of the van loads of drywall that are being stored in sheds formerly used by Welsch Lumber before it moved to its new location.

The writers blamed Bib Buck, but it was explained at the meeting that Big Buck has nothing to do with the hauling or use of this material.

Trustee Chester Ebert reported finding a quantity of sheetrock nails at the corner of Mokena and McGovney streets that may have fallen from these trucks. These nails have caused numerous flat tires it was stated at the meeting.

People along McGovney also want some stone where crews have been working on the breaks in the water main.

Ebert suggested the matter be taken under advisement but that meanwhile some stone be put in the areas where it is needed and that signs be posted that trucks cannot park on property of residents along the street.

Utilities will get notice

MOKENA — When a developer is slated to appear before the Mokena Plan Commission notice will be given Clifford Allen, William C. Kramer and Robert Smith, who respectively are managers of Commonwealth Edison Co., Illinois Bell Telephone Co., and Northern Illinois Gas Co.

This way they will get first hand information about prospective subdivisions and their utility needs, it was pointed out.

Getting off the track

MOKENA — That the Mokena village board is persevering and persistent was indicated last week when Trustee Marvin Homerdig suggested contacting W.J. Dixon, president of the Rock Island Lines about the removal of the team track from the parking mall.

According to the village files there is a letter to the effect that the tracks would be removed within 120 days from the date of the letter.

It has been a long 120 days because Mayor Tuttle said that the letter came about two years ago. The mayor is to write the railroad head and ask that action should be taken. After all, he pointed out, most of the parking space is used by commuters and more parking space should benefit the Rock Island.

Bell Night in Frankfort

FRANKFORT — What progress has the telephone made since Alexander came up with the idea? What does the future in communications look like? The answers to these and many other telephone questions can be found at Illinois Bell's Telephone Community Night Theater, May 9, at the Frankfort School auditorium. Doors open at 7 p.m., and the show starts at 7:30. Refreshments will be served, and everything is free.

Besides a look into the past and a glimpse of the future in communications, the program will include a variety of telephone displays and a special program with the magazine Mr. Pennypacker and his Talking Machine.

Highlighting the several exhibits being set up especially for the event will be a Picturephone display with two working units. Other exhibits will include a mechanical tic-tac-toe machine and the "Voice Mirror," which enables listeners to hear their voice on the telephone as others hear it.

Illinois Bell Manager Bill Cremer said the special program is being brought to Frankfort "to provide us with an opportunity to show Frankfort-area customers some of the telephone features of today and tomorrow and to enable them to talk with us about various aspects of the telephone business."

"It should be a very entertaining evening for the whole family," continued Cremer. "We'll have on hand some men and women who work behind the scenes and make their telephones work."

Students tell of European tour

NEW LENOX — Lincoln-Way students who spent their spring vacation in Germany and Austria are agreed it was an enjoyable trip and those who were late in trying to make reservations for the tour may have their opportunity next year.

Wayne Carrell, who teaches German and social studies at Lincoln-Way, and his wife, who teaches business administration at Romeoville High, escorted the group. If another trip is taken next spring, Carrell indicated, the itinerary would probably include Salzburg, Innsbruck, Zurich and Munich. Such trips must have the approval of the high school board and the administration, it was pointed out.

Besides the Carrolls the trip this year was made by Mrs. Ann Burkhardt, Carol Burkhardt, Nancy Dickerson, Lynn Fraedrich, Greg Heckler, John Knauer, Arlene Larimere, Vraig Laszle, Paul Lock, Thomas Novota, Claudia Pet-nuch, Michael Prodehl, James Roh-line, Bill Schneider, Robin Sly, Patricia Vondrasek, Clifford White, Relland Cagwin and Randy Pavlik.

Most of the students, it was said, paid for the tour through earnings from part-time jobs and all agreed it was worth the base price of $469.

The group flew direct to Amsterdam from O'Hare. After a visit to the duty free shops and admiring the automatic sidewalks and the birds that flit about interior of the airport, the youngsters and their chaperones went to Frankfurt.

There they found that luggage which belonged to Patricia Vondrasek, Lynn Fraedrich and Mike Prodehl, had gone on to Africa but had it back next day.

Riner Hellburg, tour escort and Jechen Kiefer, the bus driver, met the group at Frankfurt. Hellburg spoke English and the bus was a plush affair, with airliner type seats, individual reading lights and air vents, large windows and stereo music.

The first night of the trip was spent at Wurzburg, and from there the travelers went to Rothenburg, said to be the best preserved medieval town in Germany. They spent the night at Munich. When they visited what has been Olympic City, and the old town section, the group went to Dachau, site of the infamous concentration camp. The students found it depressing.

Enroute to Vienna the group rode a cable car and chair lift to a mountain from where they could see Berchtesgaden where Hitler had his perch. They had a perch too on their mountain where they could stand with one foot in Germany and the other in Austria.

The hotel at Vienna was also plush, with the waiter having apprentices to help with the serving of five course meals. They found the food excellent every place they ate.

One of the tours in Vienna included a stop at the Schenbrunn, summer residence of the Hapsburgs. There was one room, which the students likened in size to a classroom in which Maria Therese, spent more than a million dollars in furnishings. Other trips included one to the catacombs of St. Stephen, and a ride on the world's largest ferris wheel at Prater Park.

A side excursion took the group to the Melk Monastery in which some of the earliest printed books are preserved. A short distance from there is the castle where Richard, the Lion-Hearted, King of England, was held for ransom after his capture while returning from a Crusade.

It was no small ransom, including as it did England itself as a fief to Henry V, Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire.

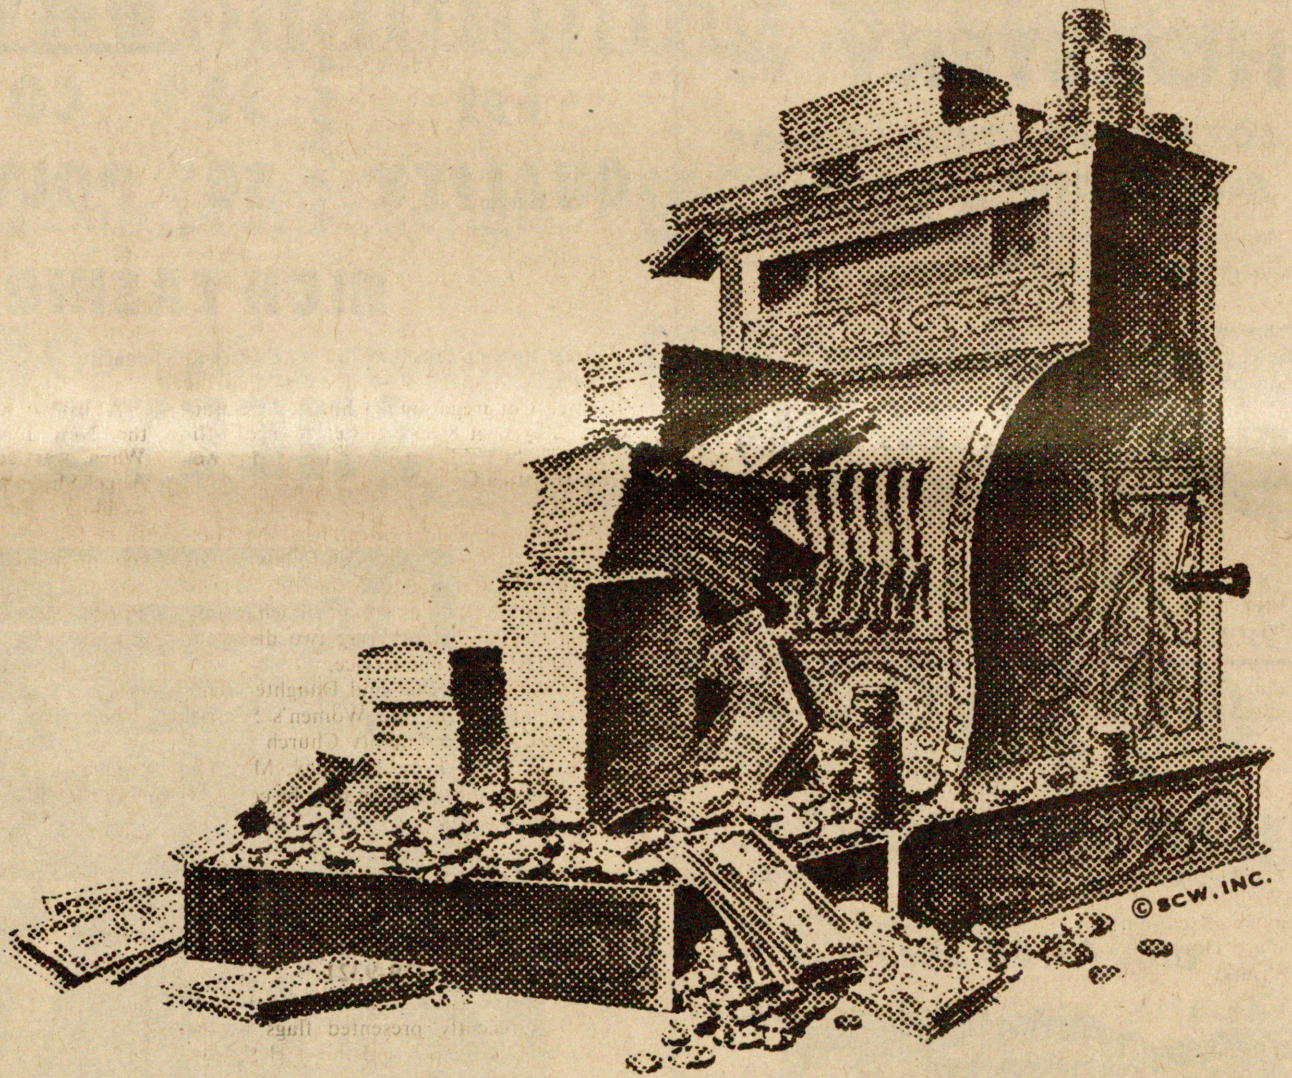

Several days later the group was back in the Austrian Alps where they visited Salzburg and its mighty fortress. They spent a night in a picturesque Alpine village and a full day was spent at Heidelberg, home of the oldest university in Germany.

A private showing of crystal and Black Forest handicrafts was arranged and group members saved considerable money in their purchases of clocks and porcelains.

After a visit to the largest wind barrel in the world in Heidelberg Castle, the group drove to Frankfurt, the "secret capital" of West Germany, which is a business and commercial center.

There were no serious problems during the tour. On several occasions the students were complimented for their mature behavior and self discipline. According to Carrell, residents of the Lincoln-Way area can be proud of the positive impression left by the L-W students on the Germans and Austrians with whom they met.

Lemont Township native George Julius Blum, 86, was buried Monday, April 24, in St. Alphonsus Cemetery, Lemont. He had died at Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, following a brief illness. Mr. Blum had been in ill health, periodically, during the past several years.

Mr. Blum was born March 3, 1886, in Lemont Township. He resided at 1239 East Main St., Lemont Township. He was a former member of the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick Church, Lemont, and was a member of that church.

His wife, Margaret (nee Sullivan), died in 1965. He is survived by four sons, Ira of Worth; George and Bernard, both of Lemont; Larry of Oak Lawn; three daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Betty) DeGerald of Justice Park; Mrs. Ralph (Lois) Hommerding of Tinley Park; and Mrs. Lawrence (Peggy) Burde of Lemont.

Other survivors include a brother, Reuben Blum; Inez Sullivan of Joliet; 22 grandchildren, 18 great grandchildren; one great-great grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were conducted by Gerhartz Funeral Home and funeral mass was held 10 a.m. Monday, April 24, in St. Patrick Church, Lemont. The Rev. John T. Benz was officiating pastor.

GEORGE ANDRES
Funeral services for George Andres, 61, a former resident of Tinley Park, will be held the latter part of this week in Meeteetse, Wy.

Born Nov. 7, 1909, in Tinley Park, Mr. Andres died of a heart attack Sunday, April 30, at Meeteetse, Wy. Mr. Andres was raised in Tinley Park and recently made his residence in Cody, Wy.

He is survived by three children, George Jr., Tulsa, Okla.; Betty Robinson, San Diego, Calif.; and Peggy Fowler, Tomwater, Wash.; three sisters, Bertha Richert, Tinley Park; Florence McMullin and Amanda Norling, both of Holland, Mich.; and two brothers, Emil, Flossmoor; and William, Plainfield.

Planting, regrading

District to stop park overflow

OAK FOREST The Park Board, at their April 27 meeting, took steps to alleviate the flooding problem on the Watson property adjacent to Fieldcrest Park.

Ground cover will be planted to help eliminate the allergy-aggravating dust and weed problem, and grading will be altered slightly to improve the drainage from the Watson property.

Both the Watson family and the park board agree that the greater part of the drainage problem is being caused by overflow of the county drainage ditch, and action is being contemplated to enlist the assistance of county officials in that regard. The county ditch overflow also affects the park property.

Treasurer Bob Manning reported that property evaluation for tax purposes has risen to over $52,618,000, while the park tax levy has decreased to .3143.

The board authorized a contribution of $100 to the Northern Illinois Planning Commission, commenting that the park district has benefited through the commission's assistance on several occasions in planning projects and securing federal funds.

The appropriation ordinance for the new fiscal year was approved and the firm of Reagan & Reagan was selected to conduct the annual audit.

In a public statement, new Parks and Recreation Director Steve Moss said that since his arrival he can "see the complexity of the (park district) situation and the advancement the board has made in only four years." He added that the "community can be quite proud" of the accomplishments of the park board in purchasing 60 acres of land and planning a community building.

Moss says he works for the park board and does not tell the park board what to do. "I think we will be able to accomplish a lot and keep going at the same rate we have been going for the last four years," he said.

Commissioner Jim Difanis added that he thought the rate would accelerate with the addition of Moss.

In discussion the recreation program, Moss said that publicity on the entire summer program would be released within a short time.

Along with the park board, Moss feels that the recreation program should be broadened to include all segments of the population, should be centrally organized and co-ordinated from the district office.

Some discussion centered on the extent to which the park district should supply uniforms and equipment to those taking part in park programs, particularly the various football and baseball leagues. Some of the board members feel the park can extend programs if it first "gets out of the clothing business."

Board president Lee Krause said that the commissioners would have to agree on a policy which would guide them in planning future programs. This issue was left unsettled and will be discussed at future meetings.

The next regular meeting of the park board will be held Thurs., May 11, at 8:30 p.m. in the city hall, 15601 S. Cicero.

TCC students offer classical music fare

HARVEY An evening of listening pleasure will be yours if you attend Thornton Community College's Sophomore music recital May 5, 8 p.m., Annex A. Recital Hall, 153rd and Broadway, Harvey. Compositions by Brahms, Mozart, and Schubert will be among numbers performed by TCC students Shirley Hillyer, Clarinet, Dan Srebro, Tenor, Mary Alice Plankis, Soprano, and Michael Ravesloot, Piano.

Miss Hillyer, Midlothian, graduate of Bremen High School has attended TCC for 2 years majoring in music. She studied under Angelo De Caprio, 1969, and has been working with TCC Music Instructor Donald Kramer, Country Club Hills, while at the South Holland Campus.

Twenty year old Dan Srebro is a resident of Orland Park. After his marriage, June 25, he will move to Tinley Park. Majoring in voice, he plans to become a singer. Also a voice major, Mary Alice Plankis, would like to sing part time as a weekend entertainer. She is receiving lessons from TCC Instructor Betty Lusha, Glenwood.

Graduate of Thornton Township High School, Michael Ravesloot, 20, is a percussion and piano major. He will continue his education at Roosevelt University as a percussion or composition major.

The accompanist, Mrs. Reynolds, holds an A.B. degree from Barnard College and completed an M.M. degree with honors from Roosevelt University. Her accompanying experience includes 6 years for the Colby College Choir, Waterville, Maine and 3 years with TCC's Concert Choir.

Suburban Living

ESPECIALLY FOR THE FAMILY

Could be future secretary!

By Jean Wille

Children can be so precious. The other day I called the home of a friend of mine. Her four-year old daughter answered the phone.

"Helloooo..."

"Hi, is your mom ny at home?"

"No."

"Did she go to the store, or to a neighbor's?"

"No, she didn't go to any of those places."

"Are you home alone?"

"Yes."

"Can you tell your mommy to call me?"

"Yes."

"Can you write down my name?"

"Yes."

"Do you have some paper?"

"Yes."

"Can you make a J?"

"I have to go upstairs and get the paper. I'm downstairs now."

(At this time the phone receiver was dropped not too gently.)

In the background I could hear endless stairs being climbed and a one-sided undiscernable conversation.

"Okay, I'm back."

"Can you make a J?"

"I have to get a pencil. I got one up stairs."

CLUNK (Footsteps and more fuzzy words)

"O.K. What was the first letter?"

"J."

CLUNK pause more fuzzy words.

"What's the next letter?"

"E."

CLUNK

"What then?"

"Can you make an A?"

"Yes."

(little clunk)

"O.K., what's next?"

"N."

CLUNK

"How do you make an N?"

Before I started to explain about a Z on its side

"Oh, yeh, I remember."

CLUNK

Approximately the same method was used for the writing down of my phone number including the interspersment of CLUNKS.

"Can you give that note to your mommy?"

"Yes."

"Alright, thank you. Goodbye, now."

"Goodbye."

A further check later that afternoon removed any doubt in my mind that "mommy" might call the wrong "Jean," or, the wrong phone number.

"Mommy" never got the message. Viva La Rompiere Room.

Benefit party Friday evening

TINLEY PARK — The third annual Card and Bunco party for the benefit of the Villa Santa Maria Kindergarten and Pre-School Children, will be held at 167th St. and Oak Forest Ave., Friday May 5, 7:30 p.m.

Oak Forest High plans 'bash'

OAK FOREST — The High School Music Department will present "Bengla Bash" on Sunday May 7, 7:30 p.m.

The band portion of the program will feature such pieces as a concerto, Sounds of the Carpenters, Bacharach and David, a medley from "Man from La Mancha" and a novelty number "The Typewriter."

Besides these, "Banana Cha Cha" will be illustrated visually by the Bengal dancers. Dawn Carlson will interpret "To Begin the Beguine" with her baton twirling. The instrumental part of the concert will be highlighted as well by the B-flat clarinet quartet and the brass sextet, both first place winners in the state competitions.

During the vocal half of Bengla Bash, the whole chorus will sing such pieces as Three Hungarian folk songs and "He's Everything to Me" followed by the girls chorus singing selections from "Love Story" and the boys chorus singing some Irish folk songs.

Solos will include Randy Ranson's "My Sweet Lord" by George Harrison; Tammy Clark's "In My Own Little Corner of the World" from "Cinderella" and Dale Clark singing his own composition. The band and the boys' ensemble will present a warm-up assembly to this concert on May 3 at both Arbor Park and Laramie Junior High Schools.

At the Ronald Smith wedding

Styles reflect 16th century

FRANKFORT Donna L. Frankenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frankenberg, 80th Ave., Lincoln Estates became the bride of Ronald H. Smith, son of Raymond Smith, 15859 LeClaire Ave., Oak Forest. The wedding was at 4 p.m., March 11, at St. Peter's United Church of Christ. Reverend LaVerne Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Emereth Boyden, Lincoln Estates played the organ. Miss Mary DeLaughter, Frankfort, sang "Love Story," "For All We Know," and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown was ivory velvet with antique lace, bell sleeves trimmed in maribou, and a braided pearl belt. Her flowers were white garnet roses and purple statice on a white satin bound new testament.

Miss Terry Frankenberg, Lincoln Estates, maid of honor, wore a deep-purple velvet mantle with an empire waist and white trim, and a lighter purple underdress. Her headpiece was a deep purple velvet cone shape with a circular veil. She carried a single long-stemmed, white rose. Bridesmaids were: Miss Nancy Delandy, Lincoln Estates and Mrs. Jose Lopez, Chicago. Miss Michele Danis, Oak Lawn was flower girl. All were dressed identical to the maid of honor. The dresses were of the 16th century style and were designed by the bride and made by the bride's mother.

The entire Frankfort Police Force and three Mokena Policemen stood honor guard in full dress uniform. Best man was Chief A.D. Massey. Groomsman were: Walter Johnson and Virgil Coleman. Ushers were: William DeLaughter, Jay Massey, James Maloney, Ronald Reed and William Bachochin. Honor guards from Frankfort were: Wayne Mangun, Robert Gabar, Alan Helweg, Donald Lorenzen, Donald Michelic and Joseph Graf. Honor guards from Mokena were: Chief Harold Fitch, John Coffey and Robert Melendez.

The bride's mother wore a deep pink, double-knit dress with black accessories.

A buffet dinner was served at Green Garden Hall.

The bride is employed at Behnke Photographers and Ronald is a sergeant on the Frankfort Police Force.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD H. SMITH

Bells Are Ringing!

PRESTWICK Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Miller, 508 Aberdeen Road, Frankfort, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Maria Clare, to Richard James Delsing, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Delsing, Beverly Hills. A July wedding is planned.

Opera auditions

looking for Faust

ORLAND PARK If you are inspired to sing "Carmen", and perhaps "Faust", or want to express yourself vocally, auditions for Thornton Community College's summer opera workshop are being scheduled during the summer.

During the summer, scenes from different operas will be performed, depending on the range of voices enrolled in the class. The casting must be made before the opening of summer school explained Miss Dimpna Clarin, Riverdale, TCC music chairman.

Scenes from "Madam Butterfly", "Marriage of Figaro", "Die Fledermaus", "Don Giovanni", "Romeo and Juliet", and "Magic Flute" were among the 18 successfully presented in previous summer workshops, she added.

Since workshop is limited to 15, suggests those interested call Miss Calrin the TCC music office, 596-2000, Ext. 293 for an appointment now.

CATHERINE BURKE

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carroll Sr., 11408 W. 195th St., Mokena, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Lance W. Schumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schumann, Channahon, Ill.

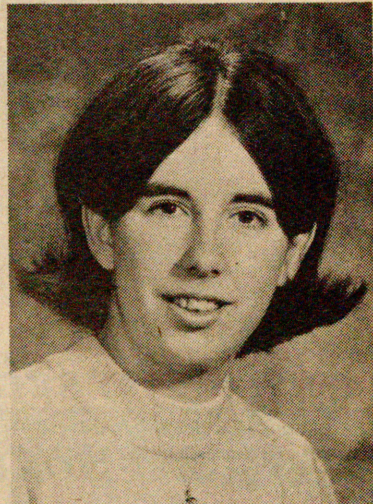

The wedding is to be June 10, at 11 a.m., in St. Mary Church, Mokena. Miss Carroll is a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School. The bridegroom-to-be was graduated from Minooka High School.

OAK FOREST Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burke announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Catherine, to John Pour, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pour, Tinley Park.

Miss Burke, a registered nurse, is a 1971 graduate of Little Company of Mary Hospital School of Nursing and is presently working at St. Francis Hospital, Blue Island.

Mr. Pour, a 1966 graduate of Carl Sandburg High School, is studying Business at Western Illinois University.

Catherine and John are planning a June wedding.

Students plant Arbor Day trees

By Virginia Sass
WILL-SOUTH COOK The 100th Anniversary of Arbor Day is being observed through various projects by the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District. The date set for this celebration throughout the nation by President Nixon was April 28.

Since its founding on April 10, 1872 by J. Sterling Morton at Brownville, Neb., Arbor Day has been observed across the country, usually on the last Friday in April.

Thousands of trees have been planted by school children, civic and church groups as well as various youth groups as a result of the creation of Arbor Day by J. Morton. Morton's son, Joy, inherited his interest in trees and established the Morton Arboretum, Lisle.

A district cooperator, Burton Barr, planted trees for a windbreak on his farm in Manhattan Township this month. The stock which included: Douglas Fir, Norway Spruce, and Black Hill Spruce, was obtained from another district cooperator, Lorenz Tammen, Custer Township. The responsibility for weed control, fertilizing, and watering of the trees will be the 4-H project of Barr's son, Kevin, age 14. Kevin is a member of the Wilton Willing Workers 4-H Club and attends Peotone High School.

Tammen has 380 acres in Will County and 160 acres in Kankakee County where he uses land poorly suited for row crops but well-suited to grow trees. He sells Christmas trees, nursery stock and blueberries.

The Plainfield Garden Club began its observance at a meeting in March with a program on the history, importance, and significance of Arbor Day. As its special Arbor Day anniversary project, the club is giving 1000 White Pine seedlings, to be divided between the Indian Trail, Crystal Lawn, and Central Schools, Plainfield. These seedlings will be planted during appropriate ceremonies conducted at the schools by the students and teachers.

On April 21, at 10 a.m., a program commemorating the 100th Anniversary of Arbor Day was held at the Balmoral Elementary School, Monee Road, Crete. The observance was conducted by a third grade class. The district was represented by Earl Siemen, vice chairman. Following the program, the students will plant trees from a special conservation packet which was awarded them by the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District.

The packet includes five varieties, Autumn Olive, Ash, Pin Oak, Red Cedar and Red Bud, which will be planted on the school grounds for a nature study area.

Many other schools and organizations throughout the district joined in the Centennial of Arbor Day. There can be no doubt that with the aid of this annual observance, we are certain to make the next century of our efforts in tree conservation even more meaningful and successful than the achievements of the past 100 years.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY JIM HIRSCH
It has been said strict patterns of behavior are hard to live by because life moves at such a terrific pace these days. Those who say and believe that often take the easy road. Invariably, they wind up with a hard row to hoe. The distinction between price and value of morals is not understood.
For example, popularity is considered a value. And it certainly is. However, happiness and pleasure obtained through popularity is a false value when the price includes abandonment of morals. Sooner or later, improper behavior brings about a feeling of frustration. The price paid for exceeds the value received.
A reputation for decency, dependability and honesty reflect good character. Good character can not be bought. It is your most valuable possession for which there is no price tag.

Magician returns to Baptist church

TINLEY PARK The return engagement as special guest speaker of Bob Teela, evangelist-magician, Sunday, May 7, will highlight the mid-spring schedule at Calvary Baptist Church, 175th Street and 94th Avenue.

Teela is a member of the Society of American Magicians and the Fellowship of Christian Magicians. He combines ten years of experience with a variety of equipment to produce a colorful and entertaining program of bewildering feats of magic.

Rabbits, flowers and multi-colored silks all add up to the mystifying presentations. A unique feature of his presentations will be selection of tricks illustrating truths from the Bible.

Sunday School is at 10 a.m. in the main church auditorium and the children's church hour, with "The Masters Carpet Ride," is at 11 a.m.

The Rev. David Loser, pastor of the church, has invited the public to attend. Free bus transportation is available by calling 349-0107 or 349-6787. Two crib nurseries will be available.

Dist. 144 presents 9th music festival

MARKHAM — School District 144 will present its 9th Annual Music Festival Thursday, May 4, 7:30 p.m. at the Canterbury Schools, Markham.

Nearly five hundred students, representing eight schools, will perform. "Young America Sings" was selected as the theme this year. Some of the selections to be presented are: "Born To Be Free", "Clap Your Hands" and "God Bless America".

Sandburg upset by Rockets, 2-1

By Dave Lumley

ORLAND PARK — The high flying Eagles of Carl Sandburg were dealt a severe blow in their bid for the SW Conference baseball championship last Friday when the lowly Rich East Rockets rallied to upset Sandburg 2-1 in eight innings.

Senior hurler Bill Edwards was breezing along with a 1-0 lead and a no-hit bid going into the sixth inning before the Rockets broke the spell with two singles.

Rich East did not score, however, until the seventh inning. With runners on second and third and one out Tom Ormsby came on to relieve Edwards.

The Rockets scored on a ground ball to tie it. Sandburg had a chance to win the game in the last of the seventh inning when Jim Koranda singled with one out.

Koranda then stole second but was out when he overslid the bag on a debated play.

Rich scored the next inning to end the Eagles hopes of a easy road to the conference title. The Eagles got their lone run when Jeff King and Crane D'Loughy singled, moved up on a passed ball and then scored on a passed ball.

Tom Ormsby absorbed the defeat in relief to even his record at 1-1. Rich's pitcher, Jim Brenner, posted nine strikeouts against the Eagles even though Sandburg outhit Rich 7-5.

Earlier in the week Sandburg won two games and lost one. On Monday the Eagles were shutout by Bremen collecting only four hits. Bill Edwards was the loser. On Wednesday Sandburg came back to play a top notch ball game in beating disappointing Evergreen Park, a team thought to be contenders this year, 3-0.

Tom Ormsby hurled a brilliant game, allowing only two hits. The Eagles utilized speed to score all three of their runs. In the 4th inning John Miles singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Bill Nelson who then also stole second and scored on Jeff King's single.

Later Joe Kesson walked, stole second and scored on Mile's second hit of the game. The next day Sandburg smacked Homewood-Flossmoor 5-1. Mark Piekarz, a junior firstbaseman, hit a grand slam home run in the second inning. The drive, a hard hit line shot over the right fielder's head, was all southpaw Jeff King needed to win. King, allowed five hits struck out seven and walked none in a complete game performance.

Bill Nelson scored the last Eagle run when Ron Weiland successfully pulled off a suicide squeeze. John Miles, a returning all-conference outfielder, collected three hits in four trips to the plate to raise his average to .400. Jim Koranda, the other senior starter, broke out of his slump with two hits. The Eagles will travel to Lincoln-Way Wednesday and, also travel to Reavis on Friday in the big showdown between the top teams in the race for the title. John Miles, Crane D'Loughy, and Bill Nicolai are the big hitters for Sandburg so far this year, all carrying 350 plus averages.

Knights aiming for Oak Lawn

NEW LENOX — Still unbeaten in dual meet competition the Lincoln-Way track Knights are aiming for their Thursday, May 4 meet with Southwest Suburban Conference foe Oak Lawn at 4 p.m. at Oak Lawn.

The Spartans have been the only team to beat the Knights in dual meet competition in the last two years.

Saturday in the Will County meet Lincoln-Way was second to Joliet West in the class A division. The Knights had 104 1/2 points to 13 1/2 for West.

The Knights won six events and set three meet records, but Joliet West had the better balance winning seven of the meets 16 events.

Lee Erickson won the 880 in a new meet mark of 1:57.4. John Been, bettered former teammate Dave Merick's mark by a tenth of a second in the two mile in a time of 9:46.5.

Max Maxwell was the third Knight record breaker as he soared 13-1 1/2 in the pole, also setting a school record in the event.

Terry Ryan, was second in the high hurdles with a 14.3. Phil McAndrew won the two mile in 4:27.5. John Pirko, won the high jump in 6-1, and John Phillips won the shot in 55-8.

Lincoln-Way was an easy 73-54 winner over Homewood. Terry Ryan and Mark Maxwell were triple winners. Ryan won the high and low hurdles and the 220 in times of 16.8, 20.9 and 23.1.

Maxwell won the discus at 131-9, the pole vault at 12-0 and the long jump at 19-9. Erickson ran a 1:57.7 in the 880 and McAndrew a 4:35.0 mile. Both times were the best in the area this year.

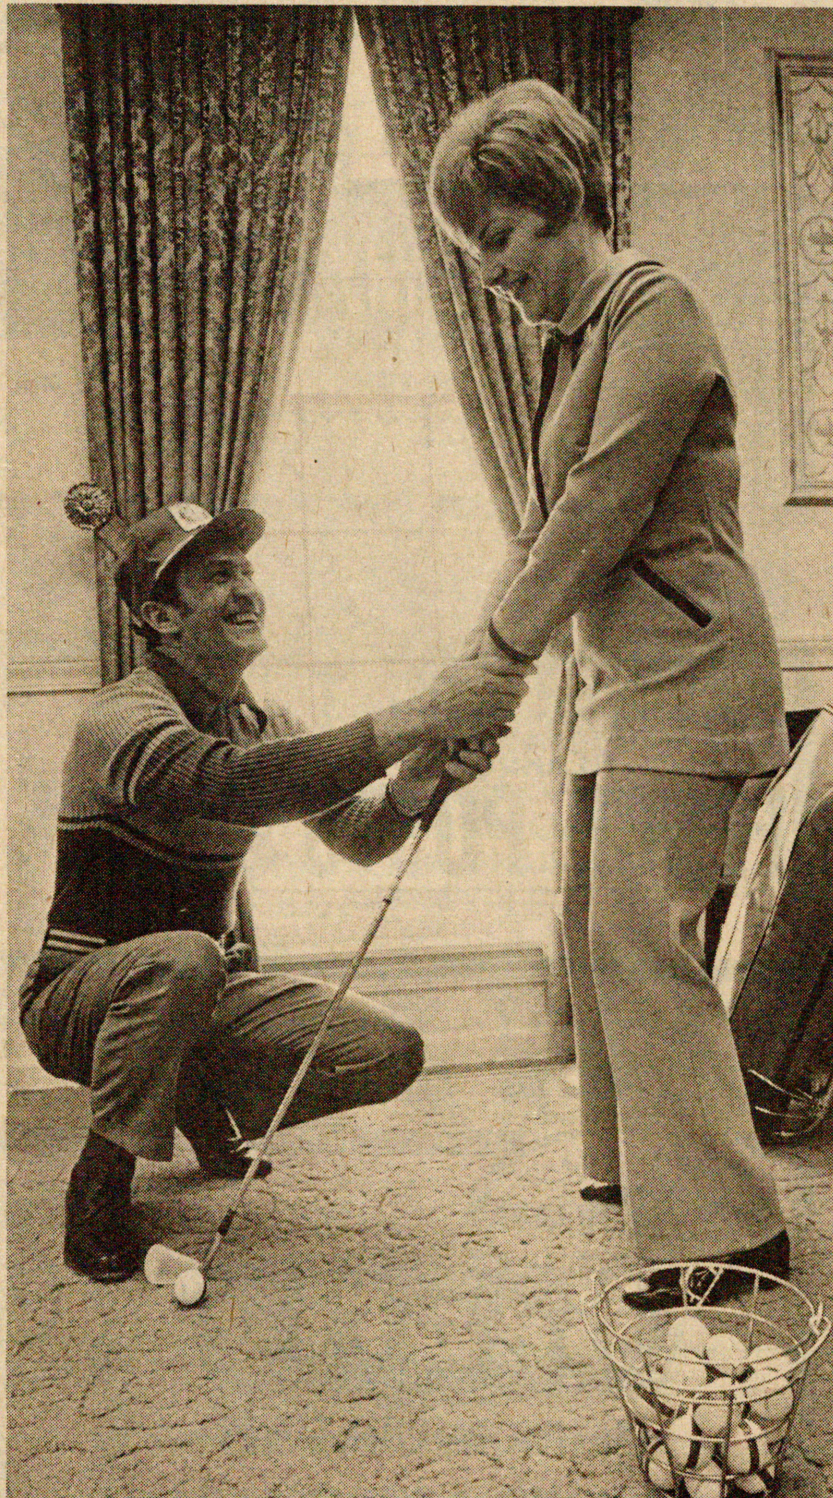

Celts tie Timothy

NEW LENOX — Despite a 37 by George Peterson Providence could get nothing better than a 2 1/2-2 1/2 tie in the Private League golf meet with Timothy Christian Friday. Peterson shot his lowest score of the season against Timothy. Bob Dalpos shot a 44 for Providence.

The tie gives the Celt a 4-4-3 season record and a 1-0-1 league mark.

Earlier in the week the Celts posted their first Private League win 3-2 over Luther North. Peterson had a 38, followed by Dalpos with a 41.

Providence topped Peotone in a non-league match as again led the way with a 41. Dalpos had a 45.

Titans in thick of SE title fight

TINLEY PARK — Becham and Kimsey are combining their talents these days to propell Tinley Park toward a South-East Conference baseball title. The Titan battery combination of John Becham pitching and Davell Kimsey catching have so far led the way to a 9-2 season mark and a 7-1 league showing for Tinley Park.

With six more league games to go the show down now shapes up as the league finale doubleheader May 13, between hosting Tinley Park and Rich Central.

At present Rich is the only team ahead of the Titans in league play.

The pitching of Becham and the hitting of Kimsey, plus his good work behind the plate has been one of the keys of the success for coach Dale Delaney's team this season.

Celts sweep 6 games enroute to 14 in row

NEW LENOX — Providence High School boasting one of the area's best baseball teams extended its winning streak to 14 straight last week. Last week the Spartans swept six games and went into action Monday with an 18-1 season mark, and a 7-0 showing in Private League play.

Four of last week's wins were shutouts for the powerful Celts who haven't been beaten since Plainfield edged them 3-2 April 6.

Saturday the Celts closed the week by sweeping a doubleheader from league foe Walther Lutheran, 4-0, and 6-4.

Butch Markelz the ace of the mound staff upped his record to 8-0 with a four-hitter in the first game. Markelz still has not allowed an earned run this season.

Rich Baranak, the team's leading hitter cracked a double to give the Celts their first run of the game in the first inning. Providence added their final three runs in the second inning taking advantage of errors and stolen bases.

In the second game the Celts ran wild stealing eight bases with the highlight coming in the third inning when they pulled a triple steal.

Coach Tom Dedin was pleased with his team's aggressive base running. The Celts were also taking extra bases, and credited his assistant coach Jeff Haiduke for improving the team's base running.

Thursday the Celts had an easy time against league foe Illiana Christian, with a 10-1 five inning win. Frank Forsythe got the win as well as driving in two runs.

Rick Susner drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double. Aided by Illiana errors the Celt scored seven runs in the third.

Providence beat Aurora Central 8-2 in a non-conference game, with Larry Lee getting the win. Lee started out shaky giving up three of his six hits in the first two innings, but settled down and finished with five solid innings.

Baranak continued to lead the Celts with a two-run double when the Celts were tied 2-2. Baranak also picked a runner off second in the second inning when Aurora had a rally going.

Markelz turning in his poorest performance of the season still had enough to win 4-0 over Lockport. Baranak allowed six hits, the most he has allowed in a game this season.

He was also off on his control walking 10 and fanning seven. Baranak continued his heavy hitting. The Celt catcher had gone into the game with a .475 mark. He also twice tossed out runners attempting to steal.

Joe Dailey tossed a two hitter against league foe Little Flower, as the Celts opened the week's action with a 6-0 win.

Knights beaten by Reavis, 5-4

NEW LENOX — Lincoln-Way's baseball record dipped below the .500 mark with a pair of weekend losses. The Knights lost 5-3 to Lockport in a non-league game; and lost 5-4 to Reavis in a Southwest Suburban outing. Lincoln-Way is 4-6 for the season and 3-4 in league action.

The Knights held an early 1-0 lead against Lockport and the game was tied 2-2 in the second. Lockport rallied for three in the third and went on to win. Lincoln-Way collected only three hits.

Against Reavis the Knight led 4-2, until the Rams rallied for three runs in the sixth. The Knights were again limited to three hits but took advantage of Reavis errors and walks to take the lead.

Earlier in the week the Knights had scored three times in the first inning for a 3-0 league win over Bremen. Mike Hossbach, posted his second win of the season with a six-hitter.

Dave Webster, tripled home a man in the first inning to key the attack.

Against conference foe Homewood the Knights got six hits, but committed nine errors in a 13-3 loss.

TINLEY PARK — Tinley Park golfers added wins two and three last week against Kankakee East and Thornton Fractional North. The Titans ended the week by finishing behind Hill Crest and Sandburg who tied for the title in a triangular meet.

A scheduled meet with Crete Monday provides a good warm-up for coach Walt Skinner's team to compete in the 1st annual District 228 tournament today, May 2, at Hillcrest High School. Bremen will also be competing in the tournament which will have a traveling trophy going to the winning team each year.

Against Kankakee the Titans won 182-184, as Chuck Farrugia and Andy Piccuch were tops with 43's.

Tinley beat TFN 176-185, as Farrugia again carded a 43. Piccuch shot a 44. In the triangular meet Hillcrest and Sandburg both finished with a score of 152, and Tinley had a 176.

John Schickling and Farrugia tied for Titan honors in the meet with a 40.

ORLAND PARK — The Eagle golfers of Carl Sandburg have yet to be beaten in a dual meet this year as they upped their conference record to 4-0 by beating Lincoln-Way 179-184 last week in cold and windy weather.

John MacIntosh was the medalist winner for the Eagles as he shot a 43. On Wednesday the Eagles participated in a triangular meet with Hillcrest and Tinley Park.

Sandburg tied Hillcrest and outdistanced Tinley by a big margin in the final tally.

Tom Frangella had his best day of the year with a one under par 35 performance. Ray Kubis turned in a good performance in the Champaign Invitational meet with a 18 hole total of 84.

Wally Akentson also turned in a 84 in the windy rainy conditions at the University of Illinois meet. The Eagles are preparing for their big meet with Homewood this coming week that traditionally determines the conference championships.

TINLEY PARK — Titan netmen gained a split for the week's tennis action. Tinley won 3-2 over Thornton Fractional North as Bob Minor, Dan Valikus and Rod Boswell swept the singles.

The Titans lost 3-2 to Sandburg. Boswell was the only singles winner while Ron Douglas and Terry Shannon were doubles winners.

Fierke Center to be dedicated

OAK FOREST — The dedication of the Walter F. Fierke Education Center located at 6535 West 155th Street, will be held May 7, at 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend the program and open house and also to pay honor to W. F. Fierke, who is retiring after thirty-one years of serving the people of this area in the capacity of superintendent of District 146.

Donald Westerhausen, who has served as president of the board of education for the past five years, will preside. The principal speaker will be B.B. Burgess, executive director, Illinois Association of School Boards. The Honorable Edward J. Derwinski, Congressman, Fourth District, will present the flag to Ervin Thomas, principal, Walter F. Fierke Education Center.

Also in attendance and participating in the program will be the Honorable Richard J. Martwick, superintendent, education Service Region of Cook County; Miss Elaine Sikokis will represent Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Illinois.

Louis Henson, Field Engineer for Illinois School Building Commission, will also play a vital part in the program. Other participants will include Mrs. Robert Rickerson, President, School District 146 Parent - Teachers Association; Rev. Thomas O'Connell, St. George Church; Alex Putz, secretary of the board of education; and Robert Curtis, architect. Musical portions of the program will be under the direction of Arthur Beckmann, band director, and Miss Susan Witte, Choral Director of the Walter F. Fierke Education Center. The American Legion, Tinley Park Post 615 will present the colors.

"Is it best for kids?" could be the creed which Walter F. Fierke has expounded during his tenure. When making decisions, the welfare of the children was the first criteria to be considered. He summarizes his philosophy toward education. "The importance of public education for children must never be minimized. All effort and planning must always relate to the improvement of instruction and the promotion of the individual child in the public schools."

Fierke was born in Dundee. He attended the University of Illinois and received a bachelor's degree from Bradley University. In 1941 he was awarded a master's degree from Northwestern University. His wife, Helen, and their children, William, Margaret and Charles have shared in the successes and have provided encouragement.

Thirty-one years ago, when Walter F. Fierke arrived in Tinley Park, the school system consisted of one eight room school with an enrollment of one hundred forty-four (144) pupils and nine employees. Today the district maintains four elementary buildings and one junior high school building with an enrollment of nearly twenty-seven hundred (2700) students. Plans are being made for the erection of the Arnold Kruse Education Center in Silver Lake Gardens.

The education program of the Walter F. Fierke Education Center, which is encompassed in this unique setting, affords the community the opportunity to see learning take place in a new environment.

The multi-unit concept of pupil grouping is the focal point of the learning program. Students are not placed in the traditional grade pattern but rather they are assigned to a multi-age unit. IGE (Individually Guided Education) provides the vehicle for learning. The child has the benefits of the group learning situation and at the same time is allowed to proceed at his own individual learning rate.

The pattern of organization is the result of a research project of the Wisconsin Research and Development Center for Cognitive Learning and other cooperating agencies, private and governmental.

The educational structure provides for one teacher, who is designated as the unit leader and whose responsibilities include teaching and coordinating the efforts of the entire unit. The unit evaluates the instructional program for each child. Continuous evaluation of the pupil and the educational program is a constant ongoing process.

The top level of organization is the system-wide policy committee which is composed of central office administrators and any other consultants deemed necessary.

This is a rather informal group as it has no regularly scheduled meetings. Their main functions are recruitment of personnel, arranging for in-service training of teachers, providing instructional materials and dissemination of information to the community.

The multi-unit organization is designed to enable the teaching staff to provide each child with learning experiences which meet his needs and through which he can continuously progress.

OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS

All Dist. 144 schools have summer classes

OAK FOREST — School District 144 will hold a summer school in all of the schools — McClaughray, Markham Park, Canterbury Elementary, Pottawatomie, Highlands, Fieldcrest, Nob Hill, Chateaux, and Canterbury Junior High.

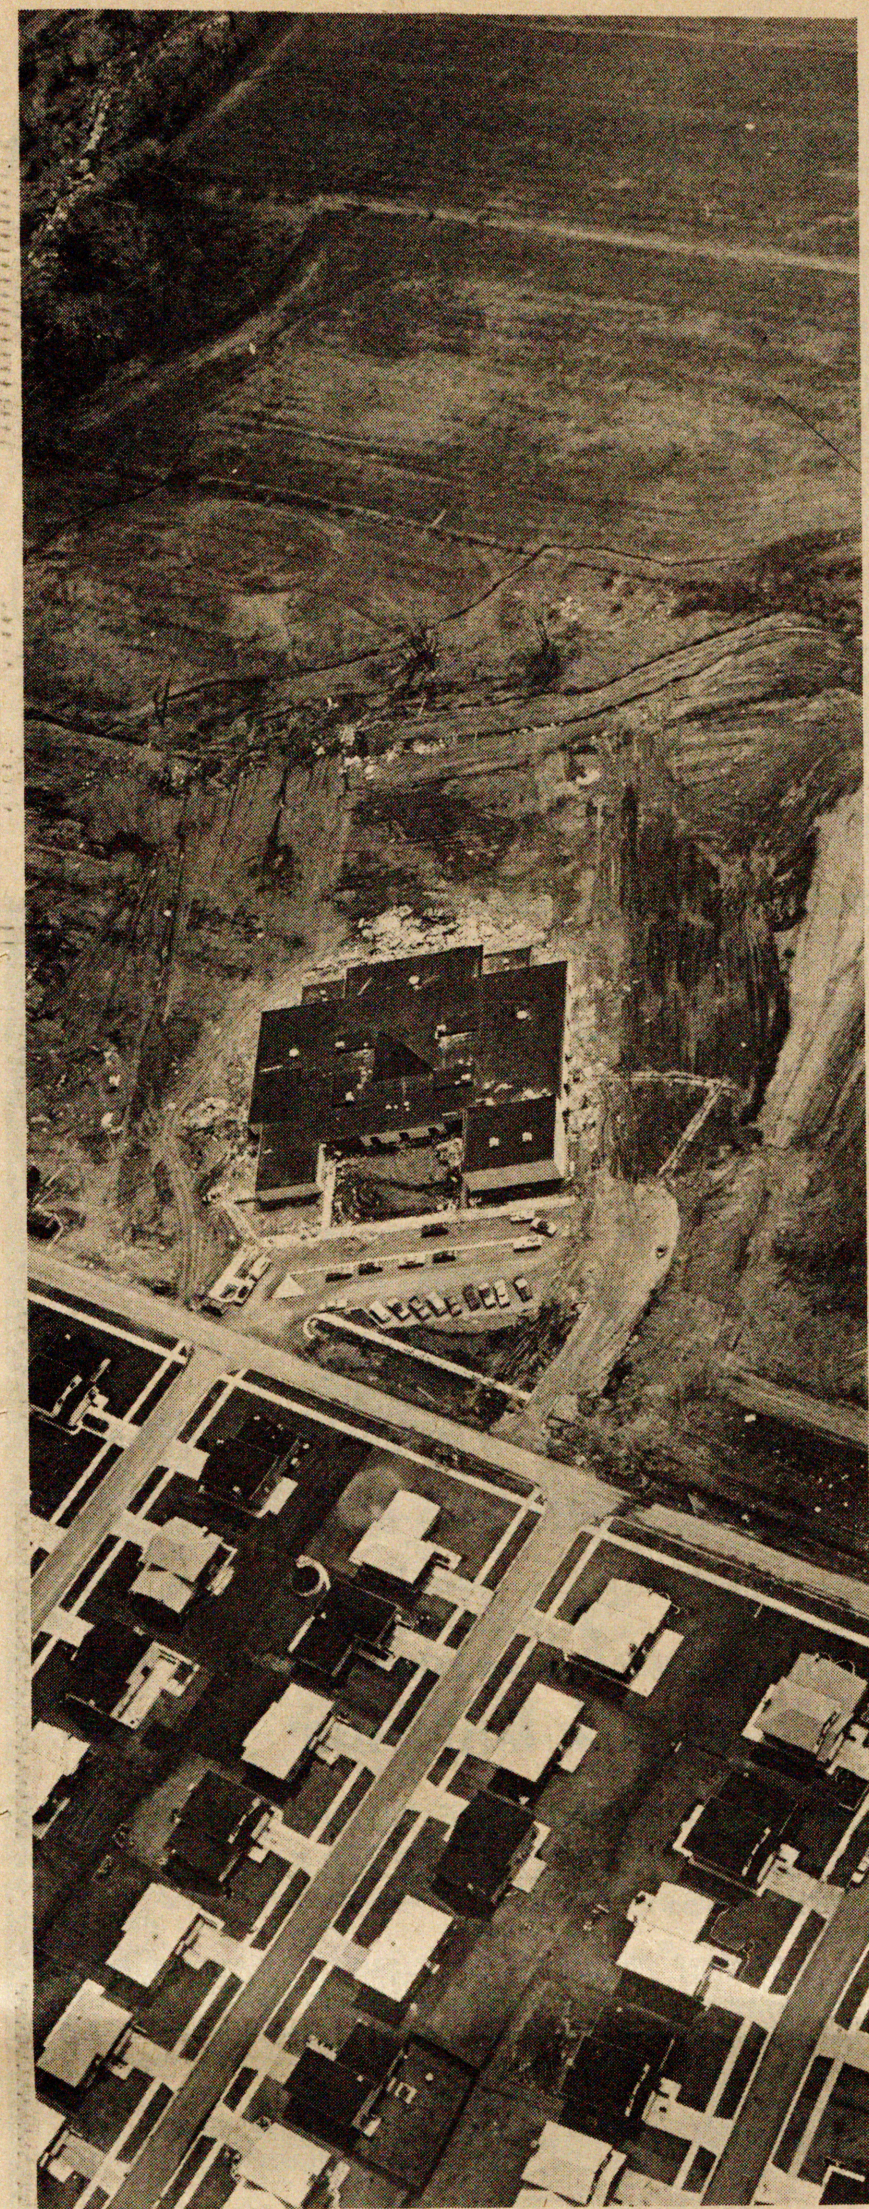

All pupils living in the district, whether attending public, parochial school and Special Education, will be accepted for enrollment. Students will be accepted on a first enrollment basis. All students are expected to enroll in the public school building they ordinarily would attend.

Summer school will begin Monday, June 19 and end Monday, August 1, 1972. It is necessary that enrollment be complete by May 1st in order to retain teachers for the summer school program. Students may be enrolled after May 1st if vacancies exist or an opening occurs in any class.

As last year, the summer program will be financed by state funds with no tuition charge to be made. A materials fee of $1 will be charged on the first day of school, June 19th. Parents are responsible for transporting their child to and from the school where the class is being held. There will be no extra charge for bus transportation for field trips held in conjunction with any of the classes.

Continuous progress programs in the areas of reading and mathematics will be conducted at the Chateaux School. Preference will be given to walkers from the immediate area and transportation will be provided from the other attendance centers to provide adequate unit sizes of 125 per unit.

Each and every student automatically will be issued a library card for the library in the building he is attending. The library will be open to all students in the district, as well as those attending summer school. Further information will be given later on schedules and programs for each individual building.

The Walter F. Fierke Education Center, the newest school in Elementary District 146, appears to be challenging the suburban sprawl of Oak Forest's Forest View subdivision. District 146 includes portions of Oak Forest, Tinley Park and Orland Park, three of the fastest growing suburbs in the southwest.

Providence third in Will County meet

NEW LENOX — Providence finished a strong third in the class B division of the annual Will County track meet Saturday at Joliet Junior College.

The Celts had 22 points only one behind second place Wilmington with 23, and only six behind division champ Joliet Catholic with 28.

The other teams in the division Plainfield, Peotone, and Brainwood finished out of the running.

The Celts got a particularly strong performance from Mickey Bontemps. Bontemps was fourth in the 100-yard dash in :10.4, and third in the 220 in :24.1. Bob Bravato was third in the long jump with 21-1 3/4. Providence was fourth in the 880 relay in a time of 1:37.0.

Host Tinley 2nd in meet

TINLEY PARK — A win, a loss and a second place finish in its own invitational meet marked Tinley Park track action last week.

The Titans beat Thornton Fractional South 66-60, lost to Thornton Fractional North, 88-39, and then finished a distant second to Rich Central Saturday in the Titan Relays. Rich scored 100 points to win the relays. Tinley was second with 49 points, followed by Sandburg, Hillcrest, TFS, and Bremen.

Rich Maier continued to be a stand-out for the Titans as he was a double winner against TFN, and a triple winner against TFS.

Maier won the high hurdles in :16.0 and the lows in :21.7 against TFN. Dave Krause was the only other Titan winner with a :54.4 in the 440.

Against TFS Maier won the lows in :21.1, the highs in :15.7 and the 220 in :24.3 Mike Meloy set a new school record in winning the shot with a toss of 48-10 3/4.

Tom Kunzer won the 100-yard dash in :10.6 and Krause won the 440 in :52.7. Larry Johnson won the pole vault at 10-0. In the relays there were no individual winners, but the Titan's shuttle relay and spring medley teams were winners.

Teacher is tops in conservation

By Virginia Sassa

WILL-SOUTH COOK — Ronald E. Olson, Resource Conservation Instructor at Lincoln-Way Community High School, New Lenox, is the "Conservation Teacher of the Year" for the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District.

The announcement was made April 24 by the judging committee: Boyd Bucher, Will County Superintendent of Schools, Earl Keniston and George Anderson, members of the District Board. Placing second in the district contest was Jack Hermanski, Dirksen Junior High School, Joliet, and Mrs. Elsie Dooley, A.O. Marshall School, Joliet. The third place winner was Mrs. Elsie Dooley, A.O. Marshall School, Joliet.

This annual contest is under the direction of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in cooperation with the Illinois Association of Soil and Water District Boards. On May 1, Olson's entry will be submitted to the Northeast Land Council. The council nomination will then be sent to the state committee on or before June 1. The state winner will be selected by the state committee on or before July 1.

Olson is department chairman in the Agriculture Department at Lincoln-Way. He came there in July 1969 following his graduation from the University of Illinois with a double major, B.S. in Agronomy and B.S. in Agricultural Education. In the summer of 1970, he developed a course entitled "Resource Conservation," designed to expose the student to the inter-related environmental pollution problems facing the planet earth. During the summer of 1971, Olson was selected to attend a National Science Foundation Institute at Texas A & M University. In the spring of 1972, he developed a course entitled, "Environmental Action and Technology" to expose the student to a solution oriented procedure.

The major contributing factor to winning this award for Olson, was his widespread community involvement and interest in various projects. Through his initiative, the Lincoln-Way Recycling Cooperative was created and made a viable community service. It involves the coordinated effort of the student bodies in four elementary school districts with the student body of Lincoln-Way High School.

Olson has assisted the New Lenox Sportsmen's Club in many endeavors. He secured student help for the clean-up of Hickory Creek from Mokena to the dam in Joliet - a distance of 11 miles. This massive clean-up took place this year on Earth Day, April 22.

The school pond at Lincoln-Way is undergoing renovation as a result of Olson's initiative. He conducts field trips and various indoor and outdoor activities for his students. His students' additional activities are to attend at least one local village board meeting, and plan commission meeting; to find one National Environmental Organization and become a member; to write at least six letters to State and Federal legislators concerning the many issues that are talked about in class; to complete an individual land use plan for each student's home community; and to attend conservation workshops at various universities in Illinois. Each student is involved in the Lincoln-Way Area Recycling Cooperative.

Olson has a comprehensive planned educational program with objectives which cover such topics as: Air Quality and Technology, Water Purity and Technology, Land Use and Planning, Our Endangered Natural Resources, and Citizens Environmental Action. His Resource Conservation Course outline covers Environmental Threats to Man, Ecosystems in Jeopardy, the Limits of the Earth, World Food Problem, Overpopulation, Environmental Activism and Urban Sprawl. Local resource personnel is involved by the educator and students are required to read from current environmental publications used daily in class.

Olson is very adequately abreast of such environmental problems as natural resource conservation; for example, he is working jointly with the Soil Conservation Service and his classes in planning a forestation project and ditch bank plantings along severely eroded road banks and ditches to help control soil erosion.

As far as land planning and zoning are concerned, he is one of the Frankfort Park District representatives on the Frankfort Plan Commission. He also is chairman of Planning and Park Site Development for the Park District.

In addition to organizing the Lincoln-Way Area Recycling Cooperative, Olson also helped organize the whole Earth Recycling Center, Joliet. He is serving on the seven man Board of Directors for this non-profit organization.

Property taxes plague suburbia

By Robert Capetini
First in a Series

As inevitable as death and pleasurable as a nagging headache, personal and real property tax bills have been received by suburban taxpayers.

The envelopes in which the bills arrive will probably go unopened for some time. The taxpayer will know what the envelope contains, and just hates to open the bad news.

That reluctance probably stems from a combination of finances and credibility—or perhaps the lack of them.

Property tax bills in Cook County have risen steadily. Most government officials now agree with the constant cry from the taxpayers that taxes have reached the saturation point. Any more increases and something will have to give.

P.J. Cullerton, Cook County Assessor, subscribes to that line of reasoning and has said it is time to "put a halt to the unconscionable property tax burden."

But Cullerton, himself has been the center of a raging controversy over his assessment policies for several years. He is constantly being criticized for allegedly showing favoritism and using irregular procedures in granting huge tax breaks to big business and industry.

Add to those two areas of concern a large portion of a lack of knowledge or understanding on the part of the taxpayer as to how the tax bill evolves, and it is easy to see why the envelope is often put out of sight and mind.

The lack of finances and credibility is difficult to resolve. The lack of understanding can be aided through education.

The entire process of determining the tax bill is started by the office of Cullerton, based on methods used in the county for many years.

The evolution of the individual bill begins when the home or building is new. At that time, a representative of the assessor's office, or field appraiser, visits the site to determine the value of the land and the building.

After determining several basic features of the home such as number of floors and type of construction, the representative measures the living area of the house. The living area comprises all heated areas and the garage.

Dennis Dunne, director of communications for Cullerton, said the appraiser tries to determine what it would cost to replace the home. He called it the "brick and mortar" method of property valuation.

The appraiser then checks the square footage of the home with a reference manual to determine the per-square-foot cost, which also depends on design, type of construction and other structural factors.

Multiplying the per-square-foot cost by the number of square feet produces what is known as the "reproduction cost."

So much for the value of the home. The most important element in determining the value of the land is the number of frontage feet. Depth of the lot is considered only if it exceeds 125 feet.

The per-square-foot cost of the land varies, of course, with location in the county. Property in Chicago's Loop, for example, is worth far more per square foot than in remote areas of the county.

The land value rates are established by Cullerton's staff in conjunction with professional real estate men and private appraisers. The assessor's office records the computations on official land maps for every one of the approximately 1.3 million parcels in the county.

Using that rate, the field appraiser calculates the value of the land by multiplying the number of frontage feet by the established rate. For example, a parcel with 50 frontage feet with a rate of $40 per foot would be valued at $2,000.

The total assessed valuation is obtained by simply adding the land valuation with the "reproduction cost" of the home or building.

One more factor is taken into consideration—the "final condition factor."

This factor represents the age of the home and is based on a scale ranging from 20 percent to 90 percent. The factor is applied to the reproduction cost of the home to allow for depreciation.

A new home is assigned a final condition factor of 90 percent, which in effect, reduces the assessed valuation by 10 percent. Each year the cost is reduced roughly one-half of one percent.

This reduction in assessment, however, is applied only during quadrennial assessments—every four years—on a township-by-township schedule. During those "quadrennials" Cullerton's staff reviews the records of each homeowner. If no improvements were made, the final condition factor is reduced two percent. The minimum 20 percent factor is used for homes 72 years old or older.

With the application of that final condition factor, the basic assessed valuation has been determined and the figures are sent for still more processing by the county clerk's office and the state Department of Local Government Affairs.

Next Week: The tax bill is completed and mailed to you.

Cubs vie for Pinewood honors

The theme of the evening for Cub Pack 352's April 24 Pack meeting was "Gentlemen - Start your engines" - it was Pinewood Derby night. The boys were all out with their cars - a fine job of modeling and car building was displayed. Den heat race winners were: Den 1 - Chris Zavos, Den 3 - Brad Ryskamp, Den 4 - Tim Gardner, Den 5 - Doug Koffinke, Den 6 - Bill Rudd, Den 7 - Joe Flaherty, Den 8 - Larry Cluck, Den 9 - David Brown, Den 10 - Lee Messersmith, Webelos Den 2 - Duane Durling, Webelos Den 3 - David Mayer. In the trophy dash run-off for the pack championship and trophy - Brad Ryskamp came out on top.

The pack welcomed new Bobcats: John McNeil and Steve Janakas. All the boys are hard at work on their achievements and activities to progress and advance in rank. Advanced to Wolf Cub at this Pack meeting were: Andy Hoyt, John Tisevich, Frank Bures, James Keller and David Vachlav; and to Bear Cub: Vincent Krauz and Martin O'Connor - Congratulations. Arrow Point awards for achievements were awarded to Tim Gardner and to Jeff Fero. The Webelos of Den 4 all completed the requirements and were awarded their Geologist activity badges: Randy DeYoung, Robert Jonak, Paul Koehler, Dan Luckhouse, Mark Levine, David Mayer and Michael Sapienza. Also, Ray Cavalieri was advanced to Webelos Den 4. Denner bars were presented to Jim Hensel and Todd Estabroos, and assistant denner bars were presented to Jeff Hensel and Doug Koffinke.

Two year service stars (and sincere thanks) were presented to Den Mothers Mrs. Sandy Hruby and Mrs. Lee Coultrip. A one year service star was presented to pack committee members Mrs. Louis Coppens and a three year star went to past committee chairman and now cubmaster Mr. Dan Vaclav. A three year service star and an award of appreciation were presented to our past Assistant Cubmaster, Mr. Richard Estabrook. Our "retired" cubmaster, Mr. Bob Reilly was presented a plaque in thanks and appreciation for his long service and help to the Pack.

A movie program will be presented at the next Pack date on May 22.

How to plan for summer camp

HARVEY For many an American youngster, the last school bell in June rings out the student, and rings in the summer camper. In some cases, summer camp heralds the first time the child will be separated from his family. Life will never be the same again.

Actually, it's debatable as to who enjoys the separation more, mother who enjoys a deserved break in a long hot summer, or junior who's glad to be out on his own.

No matter who benefits, summer camp still requires a great deal of planning, and a little mid-winter preplanning can eliminate last minute summer panic.

First, three questions should be answered before you start out on a search for a camp:

(1) What type of camp will suit your child's needs at his age level - day camp, resident camp, waterfront, horseback, boy's camp, girl's camp or a co-ed camp.

(2) What can you afford to spend? Do you want a private camp which is generally more costly, or an agency camp such as the YMCA, church or scouts.

(3) What is the desired location? As close to home as possible, Wisconsin, Michigan or right here in and about the South Suburbs.

Many metropolitan newspapers and magazines run camp ads as early as February to give advice if you request it. Some large department stores have camp bureaus with directors who know all about the field and are prepared to help you in your search. Recommendations from school principals, teachers, and ministers, are another source of information.

But, remember, selecting a summer camp is not a mail order job. Once you have settled on a camp, the best step would be to set up an interview with the personnel.

The following questions will aid you to seek intelligent information from the individual director and will assist you in making a critical evaluation.

1. Is the philosophy of the camp your basic philosophy?

2. Is the camp recreation program, in general, geared to the interests and capacities of your children, i.e., if they are swimming enthusiasts they might be dissatisfied at a ranch camp.

3. Are the camp facilities adequate, sanitary and safe?

4. Do the camp directors and the counselors possess depth of character, program skills, and the necessary element that allows them to work well with children?

The YMCA offers Day Camping for children six thru eleven years of age. This is designed as a preparation or first camping experience for boys or girls. The Day Camp will operate at two sites this summer. The northern South Suburbs will attend the YMCA Outdoor Center located at 155th Street and the Calumet Expressway. The far South Suburbs will be served at Harold Drummond YMCA Camp and Sauk Trail.

Camp Pinewood is a coed resident camp located near Muskegon, Mich.

Teenagers interested in canoe tripping will attend YMCA Camp Wakonda near Cook Minn.

Families are always welcome at YMCA Camp Nawakwa located near Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

For information on all YMCA camping programs contact the Program Office at 178 E. 155th St., Harvey 60426 or phone 331-6500. YMCA camps are open to everyone.

Conservation marks Soil Stewardship Week

SOUTHWEST — Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water and other resources, will be observed, May 7-14, according to William H. Stelter, Chairman of the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District. "Creative Conservation", the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm. The Will-South Cook Conservation District and some 3,000 companion districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Associations are sponsoring the event for the 18th consecutive year.

Among the local events scheduled for Soil Stewardship Week will be a WMAQ television program. Three generations of the Barr family, Wilton Township, will appear on the Jerry Mitchell Show over Channel 5 on Thursday, May 11, on two shows — the first following the Johnny Carson Show at 1 or 1:30 a.m. and the other at 6:30 a.m. Kevin, age 14, his father, Burton, and his grandfather, Howard Barr, will speak on the windbreak they planted this spring.

An associate director, George Anderson of Homer Township, will give a sermon on Stewardship at the Plymouth Congregational Church at Plainfield on May 7 at 11 a.m.

The District is distributing upon request to churches of all faiths, free of charge, attractive bulletin inserts and booklets created particularly for this year's observance. In each city or rural area, financial assistance for the materials is provided by local banks. Banks participating are First National of Manhattan, Bremen State Bank and Trust Company, Tinley Park, New Lenox State Bank, Peotone State Bank, First National Bank of Wilmington, First National Bank of Joliet, Frankfort State Bank, Farmer's State Bank of Beecher, American Savings Bank of South Chicago Heights, Lemont National Bank, and the Orland State Bank.

The bulletin insert cover designed by A.J. Brader, a district cooperor from Green Garden Township. The drawing follows the theme, "Consider Conservation", showing a planting scene with an inscription, "As You Sow", on a monument in the shape of a cross. This reminder stresses the importance of good stewardship today to benefit tomorrow. 26,000 inserts will be given to 125 churches in Will and South Cook Counties.

TINLEY PARK — Salute to special education will be the theme of the third annual May banquet given by the Southwest Cook County Special Education PTA Tuesday, May 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the Stagg High School 111th and Roberts Rd., Palos Hills.

Breast feeding League topic

OAK FOREST — The Midlothian Area Group of LaLeche League will hold its next meeting, beginning a new series of four monthly meetings, on Tuesday, May 9th, at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ronald Bush, 15451 Tudor Road, Oak Forest, Illinois.

A non-sectarian, non-profit organization, the league's purpose is to help encourage "good mothering through breastfeeding". The name, La Leche, is Spanish and means "the milk". La Leche League began in a Chicago suburb over 15 years ago when one mother who successfully nursed her baby, helped another who wanted to breastfeed. This is still the basic approach, although the league is now international in scope and has a prominent medical advisory board.

The group meets the second Tuesday of each month. A series of four meetings discusses, informally, different phases of breastfeeding. The topic of this meeting is: "Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother and Baby". All women who are interested in nursing their babies are invited, as are their babies. You need not be pregnant or even have a family to attend.

For further information about the group, contact the group leaders: Mrs. Robert Hosler FU 9-3729 or Mrs. Thomas Przekwas 687-5933.

If you suffer from hayfever, these people are trying to help you. Dr. George Quell and Technologist Mary Lou Valencik are working at the Palos Laboratories, keeping track of the daily pollen count, so that you summer sniffers can be forewarned.

Lab seeks pollen protection

By Gertrude Gallagher

ORLAND PARK — Dig that crazy television antenna!

On the roof of a building in Palos Heights is erected a five foot apparatus with a motor revolving a set of slides. The slides are partially screened and protected by an inverted umbrella-like roof.

It is with this machine that the Palos Laboratories, 12742 South Harlem Avenue, will take daily pollen and mold counts which will be reported in the HERALD as a public service. The laboratory which performs clinical and anatomical services on referral from doctors started the first counts on May 1.

Chief Technologist Mary Lou Valencik said there are many mold spores (plant fungi) and pollen (plant male fertilizer) constantly in the air. Some people are more susceptible to allergy than others to these irritants. She showed agar plates that had been exposed in a room in the home of a patient suffering allergy systems. Round black colonies of mold spores had grown to the size of a dime.

With the Intermittent Rotaslide Pollen Sampler used by the laboratory two slides are set on edge in such a way to give a four way exposure to constantly flowing air column. This method differs from the usual gravitational fall on horizontal plates which is used by other counting stations. Ms. Valencik says it is superior in that it takes account of the wind changes.

The slides are smeared with the vase-line type compound and rotated to give a one minute sampling every 12 minutes. The total sample is two hours exposure every 24 hour period.

The slides are then stained and magnified 100 times for counting. Corrected for wind velocity and other variables the count is given in number of pollen grains and or mold spores per unit (cubic meter) of air sampled. Later the laboratory hopes to report identification of the pollen or spores by a 400 times magnification.

As early as 1819 sensitivity to grass pollens was recognized and the name "hayfever" coined. Forty four years later it was shown to be a factor in causing hayfever allergy. Many plant pollens have been identified today as causing irritation to humans. Perhaps the best known is the ragweed pollen (1/50 millimeter) prevalent in late summer. A few dozen fungal spores have also been identified as common irritants.

The spores and pollen are invisible without a microscope and are less than three times the width of a human red blood cell. Under magnification they appear in oddly shaped or prickly burr spheres. When the humidity is low the allergy sufferers can expect fewer spores and less misery.

Palos praises Orland officer

ORLAND PARK — The village of Orland Park received a letter from the Palos Park Police Department praising an Orland Park police officer.

Officer Joseph Ordonez was commended for his cooperative spirit displayed on April 3.

According to the Palos Park police Ordonez had gained information regarding a burglary gang operating in and around Palos Park. He took his information to Palos Park police which resulted in the arrest of a highly organized gang which had been burglarizing homes in the Park and the County.

Ordonez has been with the Orland Park police force since March 17, 1969. He was recently commended by a village board resolution recognizing his heroism beyond the call of duty during the Melrose Fireworks Display Co. explosion. At that time the officer suffered leg injuries and a concussion.

On second thought

By Glenn Logan

The human voice is a wonderful instrument, whether raised in song or oratory, or throttled down to conversational pitch for idle chit-chat. Its dominant factor, of course, is tone.

Say the same thing in different tones and the results vary. It is the tone of voice that charms, repels, excites, bores, thrills, wearies, stimulates, cheers, saddens, irritates, angers, soothes and so on, through all the emotions.

And according to an experiment conducted in the junior high school science department at Frankfort Grade School voice and tone have their effect on plants as well as humans and other members of the animal kingdom. Two girls in the class planted three batches of corn. All had equal advantage of sunshine and moisture and were grown in the same soil. One group of plants was left alone. No one even said "Good morning," to them or "Have a pleasant weekend."

The other plants were talked to by the girls. They were coaxed, encouraged, praised. The third batch was addressed harshly, criticized, belittled.

Well, believe it or not the plants spoken to kindly, honest-to-Ripley, grew taller and better; the plants scolded did not grow as well as the ones sweet-talked but they grew - and much better than the corn that was ignored and had no tonal contacts.

This would open up a new field for the grower - amateur or professional. To have a green thumb will no longer suffice. A green voice or green tone is also needed.

We draw a great lesson from this:

Don't nag the crabgrass!

Naturally no one is going to coddle crabgrass or call it pet names. But according to this experiment in Frankfort while the corn that was read off daily didn't do as well as the lot receiving T.L.C., it still fared better than the corn that was ignored.

Heaven forbid, that any one should talk tenderly to crabgrass or call it endearing names. If what the experiment shows holds up sweet-talking crabgrass would bring a plague on all houses on their lawns at least.

Give crabgrass the silent treatment, along with good, stout pesticide - watch it, though, that may be an ecology guardian hiding in those bushes.

To tell you the truth we don't recollect

Don't nag the crabgrass

hearing anyone going into ecstasies over dandelions or giving them an encouraging word. A lot of people have sworn at dandelions and the darned things appear to thrive on expressed ill will. What they would do if subjected to praise and thanksgiving we shudder to think, assuming that Frankfort experiment holds up for weeds as well as domesticated green stuff.

Absentee lot owners aren't around, of course, to say anything pro or con to the weeds growing on their property. But whether such weeds get the silent treatment is doubtful. We feel sure they are talked to, as well as about.

Any red blooded, true neighbor is going to speak his piece about weed grown lots. He can't, of course, tell off an absentee owner, and as a matter of fact rarely says anything directly to the owner, even if he lives in the next block or around the corner. But he can, and frequently does, complain to municipal authorities and demands to know why those weeds at such and such a place haven't been cut. He does have a lot of uncomplimentary things to say to the weeds themselves but they won't grow as fast if he just passes them by without a word.

Municipal authorities talk about these weedy lots too.

Cities and villages do mow these lots. That I know. They send bills to the owners too. I have heard that discussed at council meetings but have never heard them report what happens afterwards.

Do the owners pay the mowing bill? I doubt very much that they do, especially on first billing. Some of them may break down after a time and come up with the money and they may as well because some day they are going to pay, whether they know it or not. Municipalities can be pushed just so far and then they go to liens against the real estate which must be paid when the property is sold, plus court costs and filing fees and releases.

It is all right to talk to your flowers, your vegetables to gain more growth but when it comes to thistles, ragweed, golden rod and dock, to mention a few of the pests, ignore them.

Take the other side of the street when you see them. Don't look and don't speak. They won't go away but if you can slow the growth until you can get at 'em with a mower or a pesticide you'll be ahead of the game.

News Briefs

OAK FOREST The Benedictine Sisters, 5900 W. 147th St., are now accepting registrations for kindergarten. An appointment to visit the school may be made by calling 687-2877.

The classes are held from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and offer religion, reading readiness, new math, science, story and poetry, dramatics, art, singing and dancing, exercise and rhythm band.

A meeting with the prospective pupils' parents is held about two weeks before school starts. Parents are notified by mail with necessary information about the meeting place.

PALOS PARK The American Red Cross, Mid-America Chapter, will honor South Cook Volunteers at the region's Annual Meeting, May 11 at the Palos Park Presbyterian Community Church, 12312 - 88th Ave. Volunteers with five, 10, 15, 20 and 30 years' service will be given special recognition for Red Cross work in their community.

Area residents receiving 30-year awards are: Mrs. Henry Nissen of Lemont, Public Relations; Mrs. Arthur Wesley, Downers Grove, who works with the Palos Park Production Unit, Lemont Fund workers, Mrs. Gertrude Shafrenski and Mrs. Louise Stein, will receive 20 and 10 year awards respectively.

Fifteen-year award for First Aid goes to Wilbert Mancke of Tinley Park.

Five-year awards: Nursing and Health Services will be given to Mrs. Jo Ann Berry, Orland Park, Disaster Service; Walter Bullock, Palos Park, Water Safety Instructor; Candace Hodges, Palos Park.

SOUTHWEST - Some 500 art works and 100 science displays and projects will be exhibited from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday, April 28th in the multipurpose room of the Sieden Prairie School, 725 Notre Dame Drive, Matteson.

Elementary grade students have created the paintings, drawings, weavings, carvings, and other forms of art expression under the instruction of Mrs. Marilee Werner, art teacher.

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils, under the direction of Ferdinand Bronzell, upper grade science teacher, are responsible for the actual science experiments and demonstrations that will be exhibited.

ORLAND PARK Five members of District 230's vocational education staff attended the Career Education Conference held April 20 at Arlington Heights, by McGraw Hill publishers.

The all day conference was attended by Larry Finley and Don MacGregor from Stagg High School, and Gene Kowert and Bob Karlo from Sandburg, along with Mrs. V. Bimm, district coordinator.

The conference involved curriculum development and planning for careers on health occupations, and business marketing and management, and administration and supervision of vocational programs.

ORLAND PARK A group of Carl Sandburg high school students under the direction of Jennifer Crewe, student council member, have undertaken a letter writing campaign to protest the development of a planned sanitary landfill operation near Will-Cook and McCarthy Roads. The petitioners are seeking rezoning from R3 residential to M2 manufacturing.

The students originally met Wednesday April 12 to seek the support of the entire Student Council, and to ask them to underwrite the cost of postage in their campaign to preserve the ecology of the area. They secured this support and had their first meeting on Tuesday April 18. Letters were directed to George Dunne, President of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, and to Alexander Seith, Chairman of the Cook County Zoning Board of Commissioners.

ORLAND PARK Roy R. Lagerman, a German II student at Carl Sandburg high school, and Monika Habeck, a German IV student, have been announced as finalists in the National German Tests for high school students, advises Mrs. Erna Schmid, teacher. She states that almost 17,000 students participated in the contest this year.

Two other Sandburg students who earned high scores were Kathleen Ryker and Laina Seibuts, both German II students.

According to Mrs. Schmid, each state chapter of the American Association of Teachers of German, Inc., chooses a finalist, fourth year student who will take a study-trip abroad between June 20 and July 18 for an all-expense paid stay in Nuernberg, and includes study of the German language and culture.

INSTANT FENCING

Nothing sets off your property and displays your landscaping as well as beautiful 100% redwood fencing. With Redi-weave, you can do it! You'll be able to use Redi-weave in many various ways, because heights of 4, 5 and 6 feet are available. (Accessory panel adds a foot.) Besides property line fencing, Redi-weave is attractively used around patios, swimming pools and work areas; handsome, too, as siding for a porch or carport.
